Terror Post 9/11 and the Media

David L. Altheide, 2009. Throughout the world, the mass media are responsible for shaping the form and content of experiences. In this book, David L Altheide examines how the mass media, including news and popular culture, have cast terrorism, propaganda and social control post 9/11. Altheide shows how fear works with terrorism to alter discourse, social meanings and our sense of being in the world. Emphasis is placed on the different institutional interventions and how these particular stories become framed and inform the wider media narratives of terror. The author argues that post 9/11, we are witnessing the emergence of new communication formats that not only constitute counter narratives but also shape future communicative experience. The text is suitable for scholars and students interested in the ongoing relationship between the media and terror post 9/11.

Civil Rights and Security

David Dyzenhaus, 2009. The articles in this volume focus on the appropriate relationship between rights and counterterrorism policy and form part of the surge of scholarship on security and human rights resulting from the war on terror. The articles also take account of issues of security where terrorism is not a factor and reflect the attempt to rethink more generally the concept of security and its relationship to rights.
