

Join two pieces of cord

Attach the working cord using a cobra knot onto the core

Left cord under the left core cord

The right cord over the core and left cord

The right cord under both the cords and back to the right

The left cord over the left core

Push up a bit

The same process again and again until length is right

Push everything up

Remove all the slack!

Finish the core with a lanyard knot

Tuck the working ends back into the bracelet (here I use a lacing needle)

Snip the ends and melt them!

Done!!!
