interviews with the principals involved to provide insight into the decision making process that all presidents face Soderberg contrasts Clinton's approach as it evolved from a shaky start to a carefully crafted blend of diplomacy force leadership and cooperation with Bush's embrace of the superpower myth which holds that America is powerful enough to bend the world to its will through unilateral force Soderberg demonstrates why military force alone is not always effective why allies and consensus building are crucial and how the current administration's faulty worldview has adversely affected our security
