Comparative Philosophy Without Borders Arindam Chakrabarti, Ralph Weber, 2015-11-19 Leading figures in comparative philosophy and cultural studies demonstrate what the future of comparative philosophy might look like in practice Comparative Philosophy Without Borders Arindam Chakrabarti, 2015 Humanism in Trans-civilizational Perspectives Jana S. Rošker, 2023-09-10 This book introduces into the current global ethics debate models of humanism developed in classical Chinese traditions which have not yet been comprehensively presented to Western scholarship or integrated into the framework of global discourses on social ethics and morality It creates new paradigms for an understanding of humanism that meets the demands of our time It begins by presenting European descriptions and critical assessments of this discourse and then moves to an exploration of humanistic ideas shaped through historical developments in Asia with a focus on the Chinese tradition In this sense the book is written from a transcivilizational perspective The methods used in the research transcend that is surpass and overcome the rigid isolating and essentialist concept of civilization At the same time the book points to the possibility of transformation through the exchange of knowledge and ideas between different civilizations Within this framework the book starts from the assumption that the ontology of civilizations and cultures is not based on immutable substances but on the relations between different factors that constitute them as categories The transcivilizational perspective rooted in transcultural dialogues between philosophies that originated in different cultures and civilizations is particularly valuable because of the globalized world in which we live today This means that the problems that affect people in different parts of the world and the issues that are embedded in different geopolitical and developmental frameworks also affect all of humanity This book is of particular interest to scholars and students of global ethics globalization Asian philosophy and Sinology The Babylonian Talmud and Late Antique Book Culture Monika Amsler, 2023-04-06 In this book Monika Amsler explores the historical contexts in which the Babylonian Talmud was formed in an effort to determine whether it was the result of oral transmission Scholars have posited that the rulings and stories we find in the Talmud were passed on from one generation to the next each generation adding their opinions and interpretations of a given subject Yet such an oral formation process is unheard of in late antiquity Moreover the model exoticizes the Talmud and disregards the intellectual world of Sassanid Persia Rather than taking the Talmud's discursive structure as a sign for orality Amsler interrogates the intellectual and material prerequisites of composers of such complex works and their education and methods of large scale data management She also traces and highlights the marks that their working methods inevitably left in the text Detailing how intellectual innovation was generated Amsler's book also sheds new light on the content of the Talmud This title is also available as Open Access on Cambridge Core Doing Philosophy Comparatively Tim Connolly, 2022-12-29 What standards should we use to evaluate culturally distinct philosophies What kind of barrier does language or cultural difference pose in our attempts to understand other traditions

How do we avoid our comparisons being biased Doing Philosophy Comparatively answers these questions by providing a thorough overview of the methodology involved in extending philosophy across linguistic and cultural boundaries Now revised and updated to showcase the most recent developments in the field this second edition engages with philosophies beyond the Anglo European tradition and features Examples of cross cultural philosophy from a wider range of non Western traditions Methodological innovations from works of comparative philosophy published in the last decade Focused exercises for each chapter demonstrating how to interact meaningfully with primary texts and engage with recent debates in comparative philosophy Updated discussion questions and readings Introducing the main problems methods and approaches of comparative philosophy this new edition shows you how to make informed cross cultural judgments through reflection and practice It remains an essential toolkit for the practice of doing comparative philosophy Thinking without Borders Matthew MacKenzie, Amy Donahue, Anand Vaidya, 2025-12-11 A major figure in contemporary Indian and comparative philosophy Arindam Chakrabarti s work has spanned across disciplines such as metaphysics aesthetics ethics philosophy of language and epistemology Bringing together an international list of distinguished philosophers this collection of essays covers key areas of Chakrabarti s work demonstrating the breadth and depth of his philosophical contributions Organised by discipline each chapter from leading scholars such as Monima Chadha Stephen Phillips and Timothy Williamson highlights the cross cultural and borderless nature of philosophical engagement with Chakrabarti s work concluding with responses from Chakrabarti himself By illuminating the key elements of his thought and examining the variety of sources he draws upon from Nyaya and Advaita to Shaivism this volume features cutting edge contributions that adopts Chakrabarti s method of synthesizing insights from classical Indian philosophy and contemporary analytic philosophy The first festschrift dedicated to Chakrabarti this volume presents his enterprise of bringing Indian and Western philosophical traditions into creative dialogue and celebrates his major contributions in defining the field of cross cultural philosophy today All Things Act Assistant Professor of Philosophy Mercedes Valmisa, Mercedes Valmisa, 2025 This book explores the collective character of action to expand the ways we think about agency First it resists viewing agency as a capacity much less one exclusive to humans Instead it defines agency as an umbrella term for the concrete sociomaterial processes that emerge from the collaborative efforts of multiple entities acting together Agency isn t the faculty of an individual entity or self it s always the function of a network or assembly of actors Second many of the actors involved in these processes are nonhuman things without intentions will or even awareness This relational and collective approach adopts a conception of action that doesn t hinge on mental states To act is to participate in contribute to shape facilitate organize constrain and modify the course of events This book argues that there s no such thing as an individual action and that agency is collectively distributed across a heterogeneous field of human and nonhuman actors Provided by publisher Thinking without Borders Matthew MacKenzie, Amy Donahue, Anand Vaidya, 2025-12-11 A major figure in contemporary Indian and comparative philosophy and Twentieth-Century Indian Philosophy Daniel Raveh, 2020-09-03 Daya Krishna and Twentieth Century Indian Philosophy introduces contemporary Indian philosophy as a unique philosophical genre through the writings of one its most significant exponents Daya Krishna 1924 2007 It surveys Daya Krishna's main intellectual projects rereading classical Indian sources anew his famous Samvad Project and his attempt to formulate a new social and political theory for India Conceived as a dialogue with Daya Krishna and contemporaries including his interlocutors Krishnachandra Bhattacharyya Badrinath Shukla Ramchandra Gandhi and Mukund Lath this book is an engaging introduction to anyone interested in contemporary Indian philosophy and in the thought provoking writings of Daya Krishna Decolonizing Theory Aditya

Nigam, 2021-12-30 Decolonizing Theory Thinking across Traditions aims at disentangling theory from its exclusively Western provenance drawing insights and concepts from other thought traditions connecting to what it argues is a new global moment in the reconstitution of theory The key argument which is the point of departure of the book is that any serious theorizing in the non West should be fundamentally suspicious of any theory that only gives you one result that four fifths of the world does not and cannot do anything right Everything in the non West from its modernity and secularism to its democracy and even capitalism is always seen to be deficient In other words all it tells us is that we do not live up to the standards set by Western modernity From this point of departure it seeks to create a conceptual space outside Western modernity and capitalism by insisting on a rethink of non synchronous synchronicities The book takes three key themes around which the whole story of modernity can be unraveled namely the question of the political capital and historical time and secularism for a detailed discussion It does so by bracketing in a sense the autobiographical story that Western modernity gives itself In each case it tries to show that past forms never simply disappear without residue to be fully supplanted by the modern and merely applying theory produced in one context to another is therefore very misleading
