Heroine Abuse Thomas Gaiton Marullo, 2015-10-15 Fyodor Dostoevsky s first novel Netochka Nezvanova written in 1849 remains the least studied and understood of the writer s long fiction but it was a seedbed for many topics and themes that became hallmarks of his major works Specifically Netochka Nezvanova was the first in Dostoevsky's corpus to focus on the psychology of children and the first to feature a woman in a leading and narrative role It was also the first work in Russian literature to deal with problems of the family In Heroine Abuse Thomas Marullo contends that Netochka Nezvanova also provides a striking example of what psychologists today call codependency the ways often deviant and destructive in which individuals bond with people places and things as well as with images and ideas to cope with the vicissitudes of life Marullo shows how at age twenty eight Dostoevsky intuited and illustrated the workings of relationship addiction almost a century and a half before it became the scholarly focus of practitioners of mental health The moral monsters infernal women children adults and adult children who populate Netochka Nezvanova seek codependence in people places and things and in images ideas and ideals to satiate cravings for love dominance and control as well as to indulge in narcissism sexual perversion and other aberrant or alternative behaviors Indeed in no other work would Dostoevsky examine such phenomena as pedophilia and lesbianism with such abandon Racing from tie to tie bond to bond and caught in a debilitating loop that they claim to detest but sadomasochistically enjoy the characters in Netochka Nezvanova wreak havoc on themselves and the world They do so moreover with impunity their addictions moving them from momentary exultation as self-styled extraordinary men and women through prolonged darkness and despair and once again to old and new addictions for physical and emotional release Readers of Heroine Abuse will see Netochka Nezvanova as a timeless model in depicting codependency in the world of the twenty first century as it did in St Petersburg in 1849 Marullo's original work will appeal to scholars and students of Russian and comparative fiction to doctors psychologists and therapists to laymen and women interested in relationship addiction and finally to codependents and relationship addicts of all types

Fyodor Dostoevsky's Netochka Nezvanova Sarah Kaderabek, 1993 The complex nature of Netochka Nezvanova one of Fyodor Dostoevsky's early pieces makes this work an interesting and revealing point from which to study the evolution of the writer's craftsmanship Written under the influence of major Russian French and German prose works of the period it reflects Dostoevsky's process of creative emulation of the achievement of European realist writing and a process of reworking of Russian Romanticism into what would later be called psychological realism The unfinished nature of Netochka Nezvanova testifies to Dostoevsky's struggle with the previous literary tradition and to his search for a new literary form The character types themes and stylistic devices with which Dostoevsky experimented in this work would come to play a central role in the creation of his later masterpieces Netochka nezvanova Fyodor Dostoyevsky, 1982 Dostoevsky Константин Мочульский, 1967 Konstantin Mochulsky's critical biography is in the words of George Gibian the best single work in any language about Dostoevsky's work as a whole Through its close and insightful analysis of individual writings relating them to his personal life and fortunes it provides a sustained account of Dostoevsky's evolution as a novelist Already established as a modern classic in the original Russian and in the French translation this superb book is now available in English Bielye

Dostoevsky and Tolstoy are the titans of Russian literature As mature artists they led very different lives and wrote vastly different works but their early lives and writings display provocative kinships while also indicating the divergent paths the two authors would take en route to literary greatness The ten new critical essays here written by leading specialists in nineteenth century Russian literature give fresh sophisticated readings to works from the first decade of the literary life of each Russian author for Dostoevsky the 1840s for Tolstoy the 1850s Collectively these essays yield composite portraits of these two artists as young men finding their literary way At the same time they show how the early works merit appreciation for themselves before their authors were Titans Netochka Nezvanova Fyodor Dostoevsky, 2025

Netochka Nezvanova published in 1849 offers a fascinating glimpse into the early development of Fyodor Dostoevsky's literary genius Although left incomplete due to the author's arrest and exile to Siberia this semi autobiographical novel is a vivid exploration of childhood trauma emotional dependency and the search for identity in a fractured world Its unfinished state only adds to its allure as it provides a rare opportunity to see Dostoevsky grappling with themes that would later define his masterpieces The story follows Netochka Nezvanova a young girl growing up in a turbulent and oppressive environment shaped by poverty and her parents destructive relationship Her stepfather Efimov a delusional and failed violinist consumed by jealousy and bitterness casts a shadow over her early years His obsession with his unrealized greatness becomes a metaphor for the corrosive effects of pride and self deception As Netochka recounts her experiences she navigates a world of pain and alienation but also reveals her yearning for love stability and self understanding Despite its brevity Netochka Nezvanova is rich in psychological depth and emotional resonance Dostoevsky's portrayal of Netochka's inner world is both empathetic and unflinching capturing the complexities of a child's perceptions and the lasting impact of dysfunctional relationships Through her voice the novel explores themes of innocence lost the fragility of human connections and the struggle to find meaning in adversity Though unfinished the novel offers tantalizing glimpses of the literary techniques and philosophical concerns that would come to define Dostoevsky's later works His skill in creating morally complex characters and his deep exploration of psychological and existential themes are already evident here The seeds of Crime and Punishment The Idiot and The Brothers Karamazov can be found in Netochka Nezvanova making it an essential read for those seeking to understand the evolution of Dostoevsky's genius For readers drawn to stories of resilience emotional depth and the enduring quest for self discovery Netochka Nezvanova offers a poignant and compelling experience It may not resolve its narrative threads but it leaves a lasting impression reflecting Dostoevsky's early mastery of storytelling and his profound empathy for the human condition. To read Netochka Nezvanova is to encounter Dostoevsky in the formative stages of his literary journey to witness his exploration of childhood and identity and to appreciate the timeless themes of hope and endurance amidst life's harshest trials. It is a work that resonates with both its emotional power and its promise of greatness to come. Netochka Nezvanova. Translated by Ann Dunnigan Fyodor Dostoyevsky, 1971 Netochka Nezvanova: Translated with an Introduction by Jane Kentish (Penguin Classics)., 2006 Penguin Classics Introduction to Netochka Nezvanova by Fyodor Dostoevsky (Penguin Classics) Jane Kentish, 2006 Dostoevsky Edward Wasiolek, 1971 In the past critics have considered Dostoevsky an artist, thinker or psychologist according to their own temperament. Now with the appearance of Dostoevsky The Major Fiction it is at last possible to see him whole for in this close critical reading of Dostoevsky's major works the aesthetic, ideological and psychological factors are as thoroughly interwoven and interdependent as they are in the novels themselves. Netochka Nezvanova F. Dostoevsky, Dostoevsky in Love Alex Christofi, 2021-01-21 A daring and mesmerizing twist on the art of biography Douglas Smith author of Rasputin The Biography Anyone who loves Dostoevsky's novels will be fascinated by this book Sue Prideaux author of I Am Dynamite A Life of Friedrich Nietzsche Dostoevsky's life was marked by brilliance and brutality. Sentenced to death as a young revolutionary he survived mock execution and Siberian exile to live through a time of seismic change in Russia eventually being accepted into the Tsar's inner circle. He had three great love affairs each overshadowed by debilitating epilepsy and addiction to gambling. Somehow amidst all this he found time to write short stories, journalism and novels such as Crime and Punishment, The Idiot and The Brothers Karamazov works now recognised as among the finest ever written. In Dostoevsky in Love Alex Christofi weaves carefully chosen excerpts of the author's work with the historical context to form an illuminating and often surprising whole. The result is a novelistic life that immerses the reader in a grand vista of Dostoevsky's world from the Siberian prison camp to the gambling halls of Europe from the dank prison cells of the Tsar's fortress to the refined salons of St Petersburg. Along the way Christofi relates the stories of the three women whose lives were so deeply intertwined with Dostoevsky's: the consumptive widow Maria, the impetuous Polina who had visions of assassinating the Tsar, and the faithful stenographer Anna who did so much to secure his literary legacy. Reading between the lines of his fiction Christofi reconstructs the memoir Dostoevsky might have written had life and literary stardom not intervened. He gives us a new portrait of the artist as never before seen: a shy but devoted lover, an empathetic friend of the people, a loyal brother and friend, and a writer able to penetrate to the very depths of the human soul.
