Renal Pathophysiology Helmut G. Rennke, Bradley M. Denker, 2007 This text offers second year medical students a case based approach to learning mechanisms of renal disease. Each chapter covers a disease and begins with a patient case followed by discussion of the pathophysiology of the disease. Issues of differential diagnosis and therapy are linked to pathophysiologic mechanisms. Short questions interspersed in the text require students to apply their knowledge and detailed answers to the questions are given. Community Nutrition for Developing Countries Norman J. Temple, Nelia Steyn, 2016-03-31 Nutrition textbooks used by universities and colleges in developing countries have very often been written by scholars who live and work in North America or the United Kingdom. Written by both scholars and practitioners, the volume draws on their wealth of knowledge.
