Observing Outports Describing Newfoundland 1950-1980:

Rural Revival Alex Stewart, 2024-08-19 When most of their jobs disappear how do communities survive In the hard hit area explored in this book the Bonavista Peninsula on the island of Newfoundland many residents transitioned into everyday entrepreneurs such as restauranteurs Rural Revival explains how these business owners developed a place rich in entrepreneurial capital The author draws on six years of ethnographic fieldwork in the area observations from listening watching and learning with people in their everyday settings Camera work opened doors to people's ventures and their lives The many photographs in this book bring you deeply into a sense of presence among the people and their natural settings To interpret the findings from fieldwork the author draws on rural sociology and economic anthropology He shows how people transformed the value of once neglected things in the house economy into assets for tourists leaving the market economy He uses theories of cross sector partnerships to show the ways in which regional development is tough to sustain

Folklore

in the United States and Canada Patricia Sawin, Rosemary Levy Zumwalt, 2020-10-06 To ensure continuity and foster innovation within the discipline of folklore we must know what came before Folklore in the United States and Canada is an essential guide to the history and development of graduate folklore programs throughout the United States and Canada As the first history of folklore studies since the mid 1980s this book offers a long overdue look into the development of the earliest programs and the novel directions of more recent programs The volume is encyclopedic in its coverage and is organized chronologically based on the approximate founding date of each program Drawing extensively on archival sources oral histories and personal experience the contributors explore the key individuals and central events in folklore programs at US and Canadian academic institutions and demonstrate how these programs have been shaped within broader cultural and historical contexts Revealing the origins of graduate folklore programs as well as their accomplishments challenges and connections Folklore in the United States and Canada is an essential read for all folklorists and those who are studying to become folklorists

The Routledge International Handbook of Deindustrialization Studies Tim Strangleman, Sherry Lee Linkon, Steven High, Jackie Clarke, Stefan Berger, 2025-04-23 The Routledge International Handbook of Deindustrialization Studies is a timely volume that provides an overview of this interdisciplinary field that emerged in response to the widespread decline of manufacturing and heavy industry from the 1980s onward Edited by prominent figures in the field the volume brings together many of the leading scholars from a range of countries across the globe to offer a multifaceted overview of deindustrialization and its impact Deindustrialization has been cited as one of the factors behind the rise of the far right and to a lesser extent the far left across Europe the rise and success of Trumpism in the US and the Brexit vote as well as the more recent and sudden erosion of UK Labour's Red Wall of the North of England This collection brings together scholars of deindustrialization around the globe and from a wide variety of academic disciplines including history sociology politics geography economics anthropology literature arts practice photography heritage and cultural studies In doing so the volume explores the roots of deindustrialization across the world highlights the key themes and issues in the field illustrates the intersectional and interdisciplinary character of the field and shows how deindustrialization lies at the heart of many of the key political cultural social and economic issues of our time Written in a clear and accessible style the Handbook is a comprehensive interdisciplinary volume for this young but maturing field The volume is a valuable resource for students teachers and researchers interested in industrial decline closure and the multifaceted impacts they cause It speaks to readers across the arts humanities and social and political sciences concerned with deindustrialization broadly defined Chapter 27 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4 0 International license

Architecture Follows Fish Andre Tavares, 2024-10-29 A highly original exploration of the history of architecture in relation to fish shedding light on the connection between marine environments and terrestrial landscapes Architecture Follows Fish is set in the North Atlantic and its protagonist is fish In this book author and architect Andr Tavares explores the notion of fishing architecture a concept coined to describe architectural practices that are spawned by fisheries To encompass the scope of fishing architecture and to establish the connections between marine ecology and architectural practice the book oscillates between different continents centuries and species Fisheries are unique and this book sheds light on that uniqueness through an articulated narrative and a wealth of iconography Up until now there has been no history of architecture from the perspective of fish although there are counterparts for meat timber oil and many other industries Tavares provides a counternarrative to the traditional history of marine environments which tends to focus on water ecosystems and instead forms a bridge between what happens at sea and what happens on land The hope is that after reading this book readers will better understand life in the sea in relation to urban growth and terrestrial landscapes

Moved by the State Tina Loo, 2019-06-01 Why don't they just move This reductive question is asked whenever reports surface of the all too common lack of social services and economic opportunities in Canada's rural and urban communities But why are certain people and places vulnerable And who is responsible for a remedy From the 1950s to the 1970s the Canadian government relocated people often against their will in order to improve their lives Moved by the State offers a completely new interpretation of this undertaking seeing it as part of a larger project of development and focusing on the bureaucrats and academics who designed implemented and monitored the relocations rather than on those who were uprooted In this finely crafted history Tina Loo explores the contradiction between intention and consequence as diverse communities across Canada were resettled In the process she reveals the optimistic belief underpinning postwar relocations the power of the interventionist state to do good Observing the Outports Jeff A. Webb,2015-10

Observing the Outports Jeff Webb,2016-01-27 The years after Newfoundland's confederation with Canada were ones of rapid social and economic change as provincial resettlement and industrialization initiatives attempted to transform the lives of rural Newfoundlanders At Memorial University in St John's a new generation of faculty saw the province's transformation as a critical moment Some hoped to solve the challenges of modernization through their rural research Others hoped to document the island's traditional culture before it disappeared Between them they created the field of Newfoundland studies In Observing the Outports Jeff A Webb illustrates how interdisciplinary collaborations among scholars of lexicography history folklore anthropology sociology and geography laid the foundation of our understanding of Newfoundland society in an era of modernization His extensive archival research and oral history interviews illuminate how scholars at Memorial University created an intellectual movement that paralleled the province's cultural revival Folksongs and Folk Revival Anna Kearney Guigné,2008 In 1965 the classically trained musician and composer Kenneth Peacock published a three volume work Songs of the Newfoundland Outports based on six years of collecting folksongs in that province on behalf of the National Museum of Canada Folksongs and Folk Revival provides a critical review of Peacock's Newfoundland fieldwork to better understand his motivations for creating Outports and his treatment of the materials he collected The study considers the cultural politics of the day such as National Museum policies and directions and in particular how the growth of the Canadian folk revival during the 1950s and 1960s influenced his work It considers the dynamic relations between Peacock and other individuals who had a vested interest in documenting and presenting Newfoundland culture New knowledge regarding Peacock's life and times facilitates our understanding of this man's immense contribution to both Newfoundland and Canadian folklore scholarship while at the same time allowing researchers to make greater use of the materials he so diligently collected People of the Bays and Headlands John Charles Kennedy,1995 Kennedy anthropology Memorial U of Newfoundland explores the little known European settlers of southeastern Labrador between the Chauteau and Sandwich Bays He shows how their annual migration between farming and fishing sites has been interrupted during the 20th century and the people have become centralized and dependent as in other rural areas Among the other highlights are the role of Inuit enclaves in the early European settlement the impact of the Grenville mission industrial and military developments and how people adjusted to some intrusions and not to others Canadian card order number C95 930516 5 Annotation copyright by Book News Inc
