Nederlands Gemeenterecht:

Vergelijking van Belgisch en Nederlands gemeenterecht Michael Petrus Arnoldus Meissen, 1954 The Structure of Local Governments Throughout the World Samuel Humes, 2013-11-11 1 The purpose The purpose of this study is to gain an insight into and make an introductory comparison of the structure of local government in many countries throughout the world More specifically the aim is to define and describe in a comparative fashion the various organs of local government and their relationships The need for as well as the obstacles encountered in such a survey are perhaps equally obvious It is said that he who understands only his own language knows none It may just as easily be contended that he who understands only his own governmental institutions knows none Governmental comparisons are useful not only to find out how others are governed but also to more fully comprehend the role which one's own governmental institutions play 1 From a pragmatic point of view there is a still further value in making comparisons of local governments Local government institutions are constantly undergoing changes The changes are both formal and informal they may be evolutionary and revolutionary A comparative study of local government can help many countries to take advantage of the experiments and experiences of others From the beginning of recorded history there are indications of man borrowing heavily from the institutions of his neighbour in organizing his own institutions In local government there are several examples of countries which have set up their local government systems by wholesale copying the model of another Gemeentegrenzen in Nederland Adrianus Josephus van der Meer, 2007 Introduction to Dutch Law D. A. J. Toonen, 2009-03-13 This book is dedicated to Joachim Jens Hesse a scholar whose multifaceted work may be characterised as an attempt at crossing borders in several respects These primarily include fostering interdisciplinary cooperation between law economics and social sciences analysing public sector developments in an international and intercultural perspective as well as bridging the gap between academia and practical politics Therefore the volume deals with a subject that covers these features in an exemplary manner the interrelationship between nation state constitutions and their international environments In this context ongoing processes of transnationalisation have not only contributed to blurring the formerly clear cut boundaries between these two domains but also provoked a growing interest in and demand for comparative interdisciplinary and applied research on constitutional developments The authors of this Festschrift include eminent lawyers economists and political scientists from Europe the United States and East Asia who worked together with Joachim Jens Hesse in various contexts National Union Catalog, 1979 Includes entries for maps and
