Outside In Jocelyn Gibbs, Debi Howell-Ardila, Anthony Denzer, Lilian Pfaff, Alan Hess, 2015-03-01 From 1946 to 1973 Whitney Rowland Smith and his partner Wayne Williams designed more than 800 projects from residential commercial and public buildings to housing tracts multi use complexes and parks and master plans for cities Working in the wake of the first generation of avant garde architects in Southern California and riding the postwar building boom their firm Smith and Williams developed a pragmatic modernism that through remarkable planning and design integrated landscapes with buildings and decisively shaped the modern vocabulary of architecture in Los Angeles Through a breathtaking array of images Outside In unveils the core of Smith and Williams s architectural practice Their most influential designs the authors show are compositions of balanced opposites shelter and openness private and public restraint and exuberance light and shadow Smith and Williams created spaciousness in their buildings by layering spaces and manipulating the relationship between structure and landscape This spaciousness expressed modern ideas about the relationship of architecture to environment of building to site and ultimately of outside to in planning strategies and political complexities of several civic structures in Canada and the United States Luis Hoyos explores Myers's additions and adaptations to historic buildings in diverse urban contexts Lauren Bricker focuses on the use of steel and other industrial materials in Myers's houses and analyses the neighborhood based designs of his multi family housing Charles Oakley describes the technical innovations site planning and historical underpinnings of Myers's theaters and performance complexes

Carefree California: Cliff May and the Romance of the Ranch House Nicholas Olsberg, Jocelyn Gibbs, 2012-09-04 This landmark volume is an authoritative richly illustrated examination of the origins evolution and influence of the California ranch house Carefree California looks at a legendary figure in Southern California design Cliff May and the ubiquitous domestic icon his name evokes the ranch house We also see how other architects from George Washington Smith to Rudolph Schindler pursued different paths toward the same kind of relaxed domesticity exemplified by the ranch house By the late 50s much of the world was fascinated with California living and with the ranch house in particular which derived from architects' evocation and reworking of distinctive regional traditions allied with the pervasive romance and myths of the California frontier and from the cultivation of a domestic architecture that could serve distinctively Californian ways of carefree living By uncovering patterns for living that suited the automobile age among the almost archaic forms and rhythms of mission and pioneer dwellings an extraordinary range of modernism emerged that was at once grounded in history and soaring into the space age

Ante Bellum Houses of the Bluegrass Clay Lancaster,2014-07-15 The ante bellum homes of Lexington and Fayette County Kentucky are both more numerous and more distinctive in design than those of many communities of similar age Founded in 1775 Lexington by the turn of the century had become the chief cultural center north of New Orleans and west of the Alleghenies During the eight decades between the Revolution and the Civil War Fayette County was the focus of converging streams of immigration and a phenomenal amount of building activity took place in Lexington and the surrounding area Although local builders followed the trends of national architecture they were not primarily concerned with correctness and developed a provincial style which was distinguished by originality and a high level of craftsmanship In Ante Bellum Houses of the Bluegrass Clay Lancaster seeks to define the indigenous character of Fayette County building which he concludes is of unusually distinguished quality A second aim is the presentation of authentic data as a guide for intelligent restoration of existing old buildings many of which have been defaced by unnecessary changes and inappropriate additions He traces the development of house building in this restricted area from the first crude log cabins through frame stone and early brick residences to the substantial homes built by wealthy landowners and merchants in the mid nineteenth century The text is supplemented by 200 line drawings which present the essential features of each building free from the later alterations and decay which would be recorded by the camera These illustrations have been compiled on the basis of intensive research from old photographs maps drawings and other records An album of halftone illustrations many of which are reproductions of old photographs of buildings which have been altered or demolished supplements these illustrations
