Cleaning Up Dan Zuberi, 2013-10-15 To cut costs and maximize profits hospitals in the United States and many other countries are outsourcing such tasks as cleaning and food preparation to private contractors In Cleaning Up the first book to examine this transformation in the healthcare industry Dan Zuberi looks at the consequences of outsourcing from two perspectives its impact on patient safety and its role in increasing socioeconomic inequality Drawing on years of field research in Vancouver Canada as well as data from hospitals in the U S and Europe he argues that outsourcing has been disastrous for the cleanliness of hospitals leading to an increased risk of hospital acquired infections a leading cause of severe illness and death as well as for the effective delivery of other hospital services and the workers themselves Zuberi s interviews with the low wage workers who keep hospitals running uncover claims of exposure to near constant risk of injury and illness Many report serious concerns about the quality of the work due to understaffing high turnover poor training and experience inadequate cleaning supplies and on the job injuries Zuberi also presents policy recommendations for improving patient safety by reducing the risk of hospital acquired infection and ameliorating the work conditions and quality of life of hospital support workers He makes the case that hospital outsourcing exemplifies the trend towards low road service sector jobs that threatens to undermine society's social health as well as the physical health and well being of patients in health care settings globally NHS plc Allyson M. Pollock, 2020-05-05 Universal comprehensive health care equally available to all and disconnected from income and the ability to pay was the goal of the founders of the National Health Service This book by one of the NHS's most eloquent and passionate defenders tells the story of how that ideal has been progressively eroded and how the clock is being turned back to pre NHS days when health care was a commodity fully available only to those with money How this has come about to the point where even the shrinking core of free NHS hospital services is being handed over to private providers at the taxpayers expense is still not widely understood hidden behind slogans like care in the community diversity and local ownership Allyson Pollock demystifies these terms and in doing so presents a clear and powerful analysis of the transition from a comprehensive and universal service to New Labour's mixed economy of health care in which hospitals with foundation status loosely supervised by an independent regulator will be run on largely market principles The NHS remains popular Pollock argues precisely because it created the freedom from fear that its founders promised and because its integrated non commercial character meant low costs and good medical practice Restoring these values in today's health service has become an urgent necessity and this book will be a key resource for everyone wishing to bring this about Financial Management Analysis of Outsourcing of the Hospital Services for Cost Containment and Efficiency Hem Chandra, 2007 Tertiary care hospitals are labour and cost intensive All the resources are scarce therefore cost containment cost effectiveness with efficiency of hospital services are the prime concern Financial crunch indiscipline absenteeism labour union problems pilferages etc are THE main bottlenecks with the regularly employed hospital staff The only alternative seems to be to go in for outsourcing of one or combination of all resources to achieve effectiveness and efficiency In view of above the 696 bedded tertiary care hospital located at Lucknow India introduced the concept of outsourcing of hospital services one by one and achieved the desired results and accomplishing the objectives of the Institute An analysis of financial data expenditure to be incurred in hospital services for 3 4 years in case the hospital owned the labour material medicine etc involved in in patient care was compared with similar type of financial analysis drawn from outsourcing services already existing in the hospital The results have shown that the cost was contained to the tune of 28 per cent direct and 52 4 per cent indirect in case of man outsourcing 58 38 per cent direct and 72 25 per cent indirect in case of man amp materials outsourcing and approx 33 per cent direct in case of machine was outsourced Machines such as MRI Ultrasound etc on lease have also given reasonably good results in terms of revenue generation and uninterrupted services World Hospitals and Health Services ,1999
