Other Wise Preaching A Postmodern Ethic For Homiletics:

Other-wise Preaching John S McClure, 2001-12-01 John McClure's book is a double treasure. It tracks the way North American homiletics have responded to the cultural, social, and philosophical movements of recent decades and it introduces the reader to both linguistic and ethical ways to deconstruct preaching. Edward Farley Vanderbilt University Nashville Tennessee

Preaching Promise within the Paradoxes of Life Len Hansen, 2019-01-01 Paradoxes have become characteristic of the world we live in: poverty and privilege, empire and oppression, migration and enclave-seeking, war and peace, justice and injustice, reconciliation and revenge. During the 2016 Societas Homiletica annual conference held in South Africa, these paradoxes served as a rediscovery of the calling of preachers to deliver the promise that lies within life's contradictions. A divine promise brought forth by the grace of God and the gospel of Christ, embodied in and through us by the Spirit of Christ. This promise may take many forms and calls for discernment and often interrupts the status quo in surprising, shocking ways. It is a promise that interrupts in order to comfort

Dialogical Preaching Marlene Ringgaard Lorensen, Ph.D., 2013-11-20 Dialogical Preaching Bakhtin Otherness and Homiletics explores the genre of preaching in light of theories of dialogicity and carnivalization developed by Mikhail Bakhtin. The Bakhtinian approach to preaching evokes ways in which historical acts and embodied experiences are transcribed in literary genres. The theories of carnivalization manifest the dynamic other-oriented interaction between reflexive texts and embodied acts. Experiences of otherness and difference play a central role in human communication as well as in theological descriptions of the relationship between God and humans. One of the central aims of this book is to explore ways in which others different from the designated preacher influence contemporary preaching practices and in that sense can be seen as co-authors. As material for this investigation, the book provides analyses of four theologians who have contributed significantly to contemporary homiletical developments, namely those of the American homiletics Charles Campbell, John S. McClure, and James H. Harris, and the Danish Systematic Theologian Svend Bjerg. The homiletical analyses lead to the thesis that the dialogical encounter between author and addressees analyzer and analyzed is one of the conditions of interpretation and communication rather than a disturbance. The communication theoretical and practical theological analyses are discussed in light of Kierkegaard's Barth's and Jüngel's emphasis on the qualitative difference between God and humans. These concluding reflections suggest ways in which inter-human otherness can function as a dynamically conjoining rather than mutually exclusive difference between God as the Wholly Other and other wise humans

Preaching to

Second Generation Korean Americans Matthew D. Kim, 2007 This in-depth study on preaching to second-generation Korean Americans, the first of its kind, is based on empirical and ethnographic fieldwork. Matthew D. Kim conducted surveys and semi-structured qualitative interviews with Korean American pastors and second-generation young adult respondents in three geographic regions of the United States: the Midwest, the West Coast, and the East Coast. His primary conceptual framework employs social psychologists Hazel Markus and Paula Nurius theory of possible selves to facilitate the process of congregational exegesis in the second generation Korean American church context This book offers a new contextual homiletic model that enables Korean American preachers to engage in deeper levels of ethnic and cultural analysis in their sermonic preparation Simultaneously the author reconstructs conventional preaching roles of Korean American preachers and second generation listeners so that they may co creatively imagine new possible selves that radically advance Christian mission and practice in the world This book will serve as a primary or secondary source for upper level undergraduate graduate and postgraduate courses on preaching communication studies ethnic and racial studies cross cultural ministry or social psychology

Ethical Approaches to Preaching John S. McClure,2021-02-23 Different ethical situations require different homiletical responses John McClure organizes recent literature on ethics and preaching into four ethical approaches Does your situation require public moral leadership Then a communicative ethic is best Does your situation require the development of countercultural moral character Then a witness ethic is best Does your situation require ethical consciousness raising and organizing for social justice Then a liberationist ethic is best Does your situation require genuine moral conversation and the discernment of shared commitments in spite of our differences Then a hospitality ethic is best Each ethical approach is briefly and carefully explored correlated with appropriate contexts and situations and demonstrated with model sermons The result is a useful handbook for quickly discerning what ethical approach is needed how to preach that approach and what to expect as a result

A Theology of Preaching and Dialectic Aaron P. Edwards,2018-07-12 How does the preacher know what God might say now based upon the many things God said then Preachers and theologians throughout Christian history have grappled with Scripture s diverse emphases alongside the urgent task of declaring the authoritative Word of God in the contemporary pulpit Aaron Edwards offers a new way of engaging with this problem by exploring the theological relationship between biblical dialectics and heraldic proclamation Edwards highlights the theological necessity of dialectical variety without forfeiting assertiveness in the prophetic moment of preaching A vast array of key voices from the theological tradition are drawn upon including Augustine Aquinas Eckhart Luther Calvin Hegel Kierkegaard Chesterton Barth Bultmann Tillich Ebeling and others to navigate the connection between Scriptural unity clarity and paradoxical plurivocality leading to a nuanced account of dialectic Applying this to the homiletically neglected concept of heraldic confidence in preaching Edwards examines the theological possibility of preaching in light of dialectical complexity via its prophetic dimension He shows how the uniquely revelatory relationship of Word and Spirit enables Scriptural illumination prophetic discernment and dialectical decisiveness in the momentary encounter which undergirds all Christian proclamation

Mashup Religion John S. McClure, 2011 Popular music artists are intentionally unoriginal Pop producers find their inspiration by sampling across traditions and genres remix artists compose a pastiche of the latest hits These mashup artists stretch the boundaries of creativity by freely intermingling old sounds and melodies with the newest technologies Using this phenomenon in contemporary music making as a metaphor John McClure encourages the invention of new theological ideas by creating a mashup of the traditional and the novel What emerges are engaging ways of communicating that thrive at the intersection of religion and popular culture yet keep alive the deepest of theological truths

Preaching God's Grand Drama Ahmi Lee, 2019-10-15 How can preachers preach biblically faithful sermons that move listeners to positive action An author on the cutting edge of contemporary homiletics and theology offers a fresh approach to preaching that helps listeners see themselves as actors in God's grand drama Ahmi Lee presents a unifying third way in homiletical approaches i.e. theodramatic that reimagines the preacher's role in relation to the Bible the congregation and the world The book not only helps students understand various preaching models but also is relevant to working preachers who want to critique and improve their approach Foreword by Mark Labberton No Other Doctrine John F.
