Nuwaubian Pan-Africanism Emeka C. Anaedozie, 2019-12-03 This book examines the contemporary operational and theoretical parameters of Pan Africanism and black nationalism in the post civil rights era. It uses the Nuwaubian movement as a case study to explore this essential strand in African Diasporan history culture and tradition. The author argues that the Nuwaubian Nation like their contemporaries such as the Nation of Islam represents contemporary efforts of African descendants to dialectically and culturally fight oppression. He argues that unlike the classical Back to Africa movements the contemporary ones do not seek to primarily relocate to Africa but to go to Africa culturally and bring back Africa to the diaspora. This effort can be seen in the Nuwaubian attempts at unearthing and importing classical African traditions, mores and values in their various communities across the United States especially in Eatonton Georgia. Their aim was to chart an identity for their adherents and inspire racial pride for people of African descent.

In Defense of Anthropology Herbert S. Lewis, 2017-09-08 This book argues that the history and character of modern anthropology has been egregiously distorted to the detriment of this intellectual pursuit and academic discipline. The critique of anthropology is a product of the momentous and tormented events of the 1960s when students and some of their elders cried Trust no one over thirty. The Marxist postmodern and postcolonial waves that followed took aim at anthropology and the result has been a serious loss of confidence both the reputation and the practice of anthropology has suffered greatly. The time has come to move past this damaging discourse. Herbert S Lewis chronicles these developments and subjects the critique to a long overdue interrogation based on wide ranging knowledge of the field and its history as well as the application of common sense. The book questions discourses about anthropology and colonialism, anthropologists and history, the problem of exoticizing the Other, anthropologists and the Cold War and more. Written by a master of the profession In Defense of Anthropology will require consideration by all anthropologists, historians, sociologists of science and cultural theorists.
