Select List of Publications, National Archives and Records Administration United States. National Archives and Records Administration,2010   Eyewitness to the Past Joan Schur,2023-10-10 Throughout history people have often expressed controversial and conflicting interpretations of current events In this unique resource Joan Brodsky Schur reveals how compelling and engaging the study of history becomes when students use documents to imagine living through events in American history Eyewitness to the Past examines six types of primary sources diaries travelogues letters news articles speeches and scrapbooks Teachers will find interactive strategies to help students analyze the unique properties of each and apply to them their own written work and oral argument Students learn to express opposing viewpoints in documents classroom interactions and simulations such as staging congressional hearings elections or protests They build crucial analytical thinking and presentation skills Used together the six strategies offer a varied and cohesive structure for studying the American past that reinforces material in the textbook encourages creativity activates different learning styles and strengthens cognitive skills Each chapter provides detailed instructions for implementing an eyewitness strategy set in a specific era of American history and includes extensions for adapting the strategy to other time periods In addition to the primary sources included in the book examples of student work are presented throughout to aid teachers in evaluating the work of their own students Rubrics and a list of resources are offered for each eyewitness strategy

Annual Report

United States. National Archives and Records Administration,   Milestone Documents in the National Archives United States. National Archives and Records Administration,1995   Illicit Love Ann McGrath,2015-12 Illicit Love is a history of love sex and marriage between Indigenous peoples and settler citizens at the heart of two settler colonial nations the United States and Australia Award winning historian Ann McGrath illuminates interracial relationships from the late eighteenth to the early twentieth century through stories of romance courtship and marriage between Indigenous peoples and colonizers in times of nation formation The romantic relationships of well known and ordinary interracial couples provide the backdrop against which McGrath discloses the marital middle ground that emerged as a primary threat to European colonial and racial supremacy in the Atlantic and Pacific Worlds from the Age of Revolution to the Progressive Era These relationships include the controversial courtship between white Connecticut born Harriett Gold and southern Cherokee Elias Boudinot the Australian missionary Ernest Gribble and his efforts to socially segregate the settler and aboriginal population only to be overcome by his romantic impulses for an aboriginal woman Jeannie the irony of Cherokee leader John Ross's marriage to a white woman Mary Brian Stapler despite his opposition to interracial marriages in the Cherokee Nation and the efforts among ordinary people in the imperial borderlands of both the United States and Australia to circumvent laws barring interracial love sex and marriage Illicit Love reveals how marriage itself was used by disparate parties for both empowerment and disempowerment and came to embody the contradictions of imperialism A tour de force of settler colonial history McGrath's study demonstrates vividly how interracial relationships between Indigenous and colonizing peoples were more frequent and threatening to nation states in the Atlantic and Pacific worlds than historians have previously acknowledged Milestone Documents in American History-Vol. 2 Paul Finkelman, Bruce A.
