Penguin Classics Introduction to Our Mutual Friend by Charles Dickens (Penguin Classics) Adrian Poole, 1997      Our Mutual Friend (Penguin Classics) (illustrated) Charles Dickens, 2021-09-24

Our Mutual Friend written in 1864 1865 is the last novel completed by Charles Dickens and is one of his most sophisticated works combining savage satire with social analysis. It centres on, in the words of critic J Hillis Miller quoting from the character Bella Wilfer in the book, money, money, money, and what money can make of life. Most reviewers in the 1860s continued to praise Dickens' skill as a writer in general but did not review this novel in detail. Some found the plot both too complex and not well laid out. The Times of London found the first few chapters did not draw the reader into the characters. In the 20th century, however, reviewers began to find much to approve in the later novels of Dickens, including Our Mutual Friend. In the late 20th and early 21st centuries, some reviewers suggested that Dickens was in fact experimenting with structure and that the characters considered somewhat flat and not recognized by the contemporary reviewers. 6 were meant rather to be true representations of the Victorian working class and the key to understanding the structure of the society depicted by Dickens in the novel.

Our Mutual Friend Charles Dickens, 2021-02-07

A satiric masterpiece about the allure and peril of money, Our Mutual Friend revolves around the inheritance of a dust heap where the rich throw their trash. When the body of John Harmon, the dust heap's expected heir, is found in the Thames, fortunes change hands, surprisingly raising to new heights Noddy Boffin, a low-born but kindly clerk who becomes the Golden Dustman. Charles Dickens's last complete novel, Our Mutual Friend, encompasses the great themes of his earlier works: the pretensions of the nouveaux riches, the ingenuousness of the aspiring poor, and the unfailing power of wealth to corrupt all who crave it. With its flavorful cast of characters and numerous subplots, Our Mutual Friend is one of Dickens's most complex and satisfying novels.

First published serially between 1864 and 1865, Our Mutual Friend is the last novel completed by Charles Dickens. The death of a wealthy miser who is estranged from all except his trusted employees, Nicodemus and Henrietta Boffin, brings his son John Harmon back to London in order to claim his inheritance. The patrimony carries with it one condition: that he marries a woman he has never met, Miss Bella Wilfer. When a body is found floating in the Thames, it is presumed to be John, and the inheritance instead passes to the Boffins. The kind-hearted working-class Boffins take into their household the disappointed bride to be Miss Wilfer and treat her as their own daughter pampering her with their newfound wealth They also accept the generous offer of John Rokesmith to attend to their financial affairs for free Rokesmith who also goes by the alias of Julius Handford is in fact the heir John Harmon presumed to be dead Dickens's novel is a thematically rich one addressing the struggle of man between societal expectations and the desire to follow one's heart Rich with a symbolism of rebirth Our Mutual Friend brilliantly dramatizes the impact that wealth plays upon society Our Mutual Friend Charles Dickens, 2015-03-28 Dickens and the Virtual City Estelle Murail, Sara Thornton, 2017-10-14 This book explores the aesthetic practices used by Dickens to make the space which we have come to know as the Dickensian City It concentrates on three very precise techniques for the production of social space counter mapping overlaying and troping The chapters show the scapes and writings which influenced him and the way he transformed them packaged them and passed them on for future use The city is shown to be an imagined or virtual world but with a serious aim for a serious game Dickens sets up a workshop for the simulation of real societies and cities This urban building with is transferable to other literatures and medial forms The book offers vital understanding of how writing and image work in particular ways to recreate and re-enchanted society and the built environment It will be of interest to scholars of literature media film urban studies politics and economics A Room of His Own Barbara Black, 2012-04-27 In nineteenth century London a clubbable man was a fortunate man indeed The Reform the Athenaeum the Travellers the Carlton the United Service are just a few of the gentlemen's clubs that formed the exclusive preserve known as clubland in Victorian London the City of Clubs that arose during the Golden Age of Clubs Why were these associations for men only such a powerful emergent institution in nineteenth century London Distinctly British how did these single sex clubs help fashion men foster a culture of manliness and assist in the project of nation building What can elite male affiliative culture tell us about nineteenth century Britishness A Room of His Own sheds light on the mysterious ways of male associational culture as it examines such topics as fraternity sophistication nostalgia social capital celebrity gossip and male professionalism The story of clubland and the literature it generated begins with Britain's military heroes home from the Napoleonic campaign and quickly turns to Dickens's and Thackeray's acrimonious Garrick Club Affair It takes us to Richard Burton's curious Cannibal Club and Winston Churchill's The Other Club it goes underground to consider Uranian desire and Oscar Wilde's clubbing and resurfaces to examine the problematics of belonging in Trollope's novels The trespass of French socialist Flora Tristan who cross-dressed her way into the clubs of Pall Mall provides a brief interlude London's clubland this all important room of his own comes to life as Barbara Black explores the literary representations of clubland and the important social and cultural work that this urban site enacts Our present day culture of connectivity owes much to nineteenth century sociability and Victorian networks clubland reveals to us our own enduring desire to belong to construct imagined communities and to affiliate with like-minded comrades
