Ousmane Sembene Pronunciation:

Ousmane Sembène Samba Gadjigo, 2010 Samba Gadjigo presents a unique personal portrait and intellectual history of novelist and filmmaker Ousmane Sembène Though Sembène has persistently deflected attention away from his personality his life and his past Gadjigo has had unprecedented access to the artist and his family This book is the first comprehensive biography of Sembène and contributes a critical appraisal of his life and art in the context of the political and social influences on his work Beginning with Sembène's life in Casamance Senegal and ending with his militant career as a dockworker in Marseilles Gadjigo places Sembène into the context of African colonial and postcolonial culture and charts his achievements in film and literature This landmark book reveals the inner workings of one of Africa's most distinguished and controversial figures

Ousmane Sembene and the Politics of Culture Lifongo J. Vetinde, Amadou T. Fofana, 2014-11-12 Undoubtedly one of Africa's most influential first generation of writers and filmmakers Ousmane Sembène's creative works of fiction as well as his films have been the subject of a considerable number of scholarly articles The schemas of reading applied to Sembène's oeuvre novels short stories and films have in the main focused either on his militant posture against colonialism his disenchantment with African leadership or his infatuation with documenting the past in an attempt to present a balanced and nuanced view of African history While these studies unquestionably contribute to a better understanding of his works they collectively ignore Sembène's relentless preoccupation with culture in his entire career as a writer and filmmaker The collection of essays in Sembene and the Politics of Culture sets out to fill that gap as the contributors at once foreground Sembène's fixation on the centrality of culture in the articulation of the discourse of national consciousness and reevaluate his intellectual and artistic legacy within an overarching framework of African liberation The contributors critically reassess the ideological underpinnings of Sembène's thoughts his role as one of the foundational pillars of African cultural production and his relevance in current discourses of nationhood They do so through a wide variety of interdisciplinary approaches that draw on linguistics feminist theory film theory historiography Marxist criticism psychoanalysis and a host of other approaches that give novel insights in the critical analysis of the works under study In the part entitled Testimonies a collection of conversations with people who worked closely with Sembène each of the interlocutors provide illuminating insights into the man's life and work The variety of themes and critical approaches in this critical anthology will certainly be of interest not only to students and scholars of African literature and cinema at various levels of intellectual and cultural sophistication but also anyone interested in the analysis of the nexus between power culture and the discourse of liberation

African Film Josef Gugler, 2003 In African Film Reimagining a Continent Josef Gugler provides an introduction to African cinema through an analysis of 15 films made by African filmmakers These directors set out to reimage Africa their films offer Western viewers the opportunity to re imagine the continent and its people As a point of comparison two additional films on Africa one from Hollywood the other from apartheid South Africa serve to highlight

African directors altogether different perspectives Gugler's interpretation considers the financial and technical difficulties of African film production the intended audiences in Africa and the West the constraints on distribution and the critical reception of the films Identity Meets Nationality Helen Lauer, Nana Aba Appiah Amfo, Jemima Asabea Anderson, 2011

Questions about how social conditioning and historical circumstances influence assumptions about who we are and how others perceive who we are have attracted wide ranging discussion across the disciplines in the arts humanities and allied sciences Simultaneously since the Independence period scholars have deliberated over the varied implications of new states emerging throughout Africa The peer reviewed selected papers for this anthology represent a cross section of the diverse perspectives reflecting research and cross disciplinary collaborations undertaken by members of the University of Ghana faculty and graduate students working in archaeology literary criticism of African as well as English and Russian literatures economics history cognitive psychology linguistics dance music philosophy sociology and the study of religions The Routledge Companion to Literature and Social Justice Masood Ashraf Raja, Nick T. C. Lu, 2023-11-20 The Routledge Companion to Literature and Social Justice is a comprehensive and multi purpose collection on this important topic With contributors working in various fields the Companion provides in depth analyses of both the cumulative and emergent issues obstacles praxes propositions and theories of social justice The first section offers a historical overview of major developments and debates in the field while the following sections look in more detail at the key traditions and show how literature and theory can be applied as analytical tools to real world inequalities and the impact of doing so The contributors provide reviews of major theoretical traditions including Marxism feminism Critical Race Theory disability studies and queer studies They also share literary analyses of influential authors including W E B Du Bois Yang Kui Edwidge Danticat Octavia Butler and Rivers Solomon amongst others The final section considers future possibilities for theory and action of justice drawing specifically from theories and knowledges in decolonial Indigenous environmental and posthumanist studies This authoritative volume draws on the intersections between literary studies and social movements in order to provide scholars students and activists alike with a complete collection of the most up to date information on both canonical and emerging texts and case studies globally Tropical Dream Palaces Odile Goerg, 2020 A highly original investigation of who went to the movies in colonial Africa what they watched and why Reclaiming the Human Sciences and Humanities Through African Perspectives Helen Lauer, Kofi Anyidoho, 2012 This compilation was inspired by an international symposium held on the Legon campus in September 2003 Hosted by the CODESRIA African Humanities Institute Programme the symposium had the theme Canonical Works and Continuing Innovation in African Arts Humanities A Call to Action Sheila Petty, 1996

African Studies Handbook for Elementary and Secondary School Teachers Margaret John Maxwell, 1983 Teachers from Worcester Massachusetts Public Schools and the University of Massachusetts collaborated in a Teacher Corps project to publish a resource handbook on African studies to be utilized in U S elementary and secondary classrooms The handbook contains selected classroom activities and resources that enable both students and teachers to examine aspects of African life. The objectives of the handbook are to counteract stereotypes, illuminate interdependencies between African countries and the United States, and encourage U.S. students to view themselves as world citizens. The activities allow students to view specific African life styles from multiple perspectives. An extensive annotated bibliography of resources provides content information and teaching guidelines. The lesson plans use a participatory method of instruction and unit topics include: The Diversity of Africa, Appreciating African Art Forms, and Women's Roles in Africa. NL Representation of Sub-Saharan Africa in Contemporary French Literature and Film, Olubunmi Oludolapo Ashaolu, 2005. God Made Man, Man Made the Slave, George Teamoh, 1990. George Teamoh was born in 1818 in Norfolk, Virginia. His parents were slaves named David and Lavinia. He was owned by Josiah and Jane Thomas, who hired him out to various businesses. In 1841, he married Sallie and had three children. In 1853, he was separated from his family when they were sold to different slaveholders. His owners allowed him to move to Boston, and in 1863, he married Elizabeth Smith, whom he divorced two years later. In 1865, he returned to Portsmouth, Virginia, and remarried his wife Sallie. He became an influential leader in local politics and public education. He was the first black man to serve as a state senator. He died about 1883. Essays in Comparative African Literature, Willfried Feuser, I. N. C. Aniebo, 2001. Directory of American Scholars, 1982. Cyclopedia of Literary Characters II, Frank Northen Magill, 1990. Encounter, 1978. Encounter, Stephen Spender, Irving Kristol, 1978. Ekpoma Journal of Languages and Literary Studies, 1992. Courses and Degrees, Stanford University, 1992. Plays and Players, 1995. Best Sellers, 1962.
