Reading for Information in Elementary School Nancy Frey, Douglas Fisher, 2007 Reading for Information in Elementary School Content Literacy Strategies to Build Comprehension was written to give K-5 teachers the tools they need to lay an educational groundwork that promotes students' success with informational text from the early grades. Packed with research-based classroom-proven strategies, the book follows a before-during-and-after reading format that models the most effective approach to reading for information, focusing on the processes required to develop content literacy. You'll meet the teachers sit in on their lessons, witness their students' responses, and come away from this book with a model for teaching your students to read successfully for information and a handbook of proven strategies to implement. Features: Examples of instructional strategies. This book follows six elementary teachers, grades K-5, as they utilize strategies with informational texts. These examples are detailed and include student and teacher dialogue to provide readers with the sense they are watching the lesson unfold. Each focus instructional strategy is research-based. The instructional strategies outlined in this book have a research base and have been implemented in schools across the country. Margin notes provide readers with additional information and resources. Readers are referred to other sources of information at common places that they may have questions. A clear process for organizing instruction is provided. The strategies and texts presented in the book follow the before-during-after instructional organization used by teachers to foster reading comprehension. Book covers of informational texts. Each chapter features the covers and bibliographical information of some of the best informational texts available today. Making the Connection Patricia Pavelka, 1995 The author discusses her realization that students were not connecting the skills learned in isolation with real-life reading and writing, offers advice on making children's literature the heart of skills instruction, and presents lessons and extension activities. An Evaluation of the Effects of Stimulus Or
