Practice-Oriented Research in Tertiary Mathematics Education Rolf Biehler, Michael Liebendorfer, Ghislaine Gueudet, Chris Rasmussen, Carl Winsløw, 2023-01-01 This edited volume presents a broad range of original practice oriented research studies about tertiary mathematics education. These are based on current theoretical frameworks and on established and innovative empirical research methods. It provides a relevant overview of current research along with being a valuable resource for researchers in tertiary mathematics education including novices in the field. Its practice orientation research makes it attractive to university mathematics teachers interested in getting access to current ideas and results including theory based and empirically evaluated teaching and learning innovations. The content of the book is spread over 5 sections: The secondary-tertiary transition, University students' mathematical practices and mathematical inquiry, Research on teaching and curriculum design, University students' mathematical inquiry, and Mathematics for non-specialists.

Cooperative Learning in Higher Education Barbara Millis, 2023-07-03 Research has identified cooperative learning as one of the ten High Impact Practices that improve student learning. If you've been interested in cooperative learning but wondered how it would work in your discipline, this book provides the necessary theory and a wide range of concrete examples. Experienced users of cooperative learning demonstrate how they use it in settings as varied as a developmental mathematics course at a community college and graduate courses in history and the sciences and how it works in small and large classes as well as in hybrid and online environments. The authors describe the application of cooperative learning in biology, economics, educational psychology, financial accounting, general chemistry, and literature at remedial, introductory, and graduate levels. The chapters showcase cooperative learning in action at the same time introducing the reader to major principles such as individual accountability, positive interdependence, heterogeneous teams, group processing, and social or leadership skills. The authors build upon and cross reference each other's chapters, describing particular methods and activities in detail. They explain how and why they may differ about specific practices while exemplifying reflective approaches to teaching that never fail to address important assessment issues.

Overcoming Math Anxiety Randy Davidson, 2000
Fostering Children's Mathematical Power Arthur Baroody, Arthur J. Baroody, Jesse L.M. Wilkins, Ronald T. Coslick, 1998-09-01 Teachers have the responsibility of helping all of their students construct the disposition and knowledge needed to live successfully in a complex and rapidly changing world. To meet the challenges of the 21st century, students will especially need mathematical power, a positive disposition toward mathematics, curiosity and self-confidence, facility with the processes of mathematical inquiry, problem solving, reasoning and communicating, and well-connected mathematical knowledge, an understanding of mathematical concepts, procedures, and formulas. This guide seeks to help teachers achieve the capability to foster children's mathematical power, the ability to excite them about mathematics, help them see that it makes sense and enable them to harness its might for solving everyday and extraordinary problems. The investigative approach attempts to foster mathematical power by making mathematics instruction process based understandable or relevant to the everyday life of students. Past efforts to reform mathematics instruction have focused on only one or two of these aims whereas the investigative approach accomplishes all three. By teaching content in a purposeful context an inquiry based fashion and a meaningful manner this approach promotes children's mathematical learning in an interesting thought provoking and comprehensible way. This teaching guide is designed to help teachers appreciate the need for the investigative approach and to provide practical advice on how to make this approach happen in the classroom. It not only dispenses information but also serves as a catalyst for exploring conjecturing about discussing and contemplating the teaching and learning of mathematics.

Reshaping STEM Education: Strategies for Curriculum Decolonization and Institutional Transformation

Zahid Pranjol, Alia Amir, 2025-11-13

The field of STEM higher education is currently grappling with the imperative need for transformative discourse to address its historical epistemological and colonial underpinnings. Despite significant advancements in STEM disciplines there remains a critical gap in inclusivity and equity within higher educational institutes. Recent studies have highlighted the persistent colonial structures that shape STEM education often marginalizing diverse voices and perspectives. Efforts to decolonize STEM education are gaining momentum yet there is a pressing need for comprehensive research and reflective insights to uproot these entrenched structures. This research topic aims to address these gaps by fostering a robust dialogue that transcends traditional boundaries promoting a deeper understanding of the challenges and opportunities in reshaping STEM education through decolonial lenses. This research topic aims to provide a scholarly platform for researchers, educators, and practitioners to contribute groundbreaking research and reflective insights on decolonizing STEM higher education. The primary goal is to facilitate a robust dialogue that transcends traditional boundaries fostering a deeper understanding of the challenges and opportunities in reshaping STEM education through decolonial lenses.

EdPsych Modules uses an innovative modular approach and case studies based on real life classroom situations to address the challenge of effectively connecting theory and research to practice. Succinct stand alone modules are organized into themed units and offer instructors the flexibility to tailor the book's contents to the needs of their course. The units begin with a set of case studies written for early childhood, elementary, middle, and secondary classrooms providing students with direct insight into the dynamics influencing the future students they plan to teach. All 25 modules highlight diversity emphasizing how psychological factors adapt and change based on external influences such as sex, gender, race, language, disability status, and socioeconomic background. The Fourth Edition includes over three hundred new references across all 25 modules and expanded coverage of diversity in new diversity related research. This title is accompanied by a complete teaching and learning package.
