Mickalene Thomas Photographs:

Muse Jennifer Blessing,2015 This volume is the first to gather together Mickalene Thomas's various approaches to photography including portraits, collages, Polaroids and other processes. The book also includes a section entitled te t te which features a curated selection of images by artists who she considers to be an artistic community of influence from Malick Sidibé to more contemporary artists such as Zanele Muholi and LaToya Ruby Frazier. Mickalene Thomas: All about Love Ed Schad, Renée Mussai, Rachael Thomas, 2024. Co-organized by the Hayward Gallery, London and The Broad, Los Angeles and in partnership with the Barnes Foundation, Philadelphia. Mickalene Thomas: All About Love will be the first major international tour of this pioneering artist's work. Marking its debut at The Broad with over 80 works made by the artist over the last 20 years, the exhibition highlights how Thomas has mastered and innovated within several disciplines from mixed media painting and collage to installation and photography. The exhibition shares its title and several of its themes with the pivotal text by feminist author bell hooks in which love is an active process rooted in healing, carving a path away from domination and towards collective liberation. Julie Crooks, Andrea Andersson, 2018. Mickalene Thomas's vivid paintings, collages, and photographs explode off the wall. Their larger-than-life women stare back and down at the viewer, confronting them head-on. Over the course of her prolific career, Thomas has created a body of work that expands notions of beauty, gender, sexuality, and race, offering a complex vision of what it means to be a Black woman. In Femmes Noires, Thomas moves breezily between pop culture and the long history of Western and African art, inserting images of Black women into iconic paintings. At times she poses them nude; at other times she draws on elements as diverse as 1970s black-is-beautiful images of women, Edouard Manet's Odalisque figures, the mise en scène studio portraiture of James Van Der Zee, and Malick Sidibé and her own collection of personal portraits and staged scenes. Her ability to detect and contain contradictions and to wrestle with stereotypes translates into powerful, self-possessed depictions of Black women that confront and subvert stereotypes. Femmes Noires is a bold examination of Thomas's work and her artistic practise at an important moment in history. It blends writing from iconic Black writers and essayists Alice Walker, Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie, Edwidge Danticat, and Lorraine O'Grady with 120 reproductions from Thomas's oeuvre, collages, paintings, film stills, and photographs. Original essays by Andrea Andersson, visual arts curator of the Contemporary Art Center of New Orleans; Julie Crooks, curator at the Art Gallery of Ontario; and writer, art critic Antwaun Sargent complete the book. Mickalene Thomas: Femmes Noires accompanies an international touring exhibition organized by the Art Gallery of Ontario and the Contemporary Art Centre in New Orleans. It will open at the AGO in late November 2018.

Self-Representation in an Expanded Field Ace Lehner, 2021-05-31. Defined as a self-image made with a hand-held mobile device and shared via social media platforms, the selfie has facilitated self-imaging, becoming a ubiquitous part of globally networked contemporary life. Beyond this, selfies have facilitated a diversity of image-making practices and enabled otherwise representational marginalized constituencies to insert self representations into visual culture In the Western European and North American art historical context self portraiture has been somewhat rigidly albeit obliquely defined and selfies have facilitated a shift regarding who literally holds the power to self image Like self portraits not all selfies are inherently aesthetically or conceptually rigorous or avant guard But as this project aims to do address via a variety of interdisciplinary approaches selfies have irreversibly impacted visual culture contemporary art and portraiture in particular Selfies propose new modes of self imaging forward emerging aesthetics and challenge established methods they prove that as scholars and image makers it is necessary to adapt and innovate in order to contend with the most current form of self representation to date The essays gathered herein will reveal that in our current moment it is necessary and advantageous to consider the merits and interventions of selfies and self portraiture in an expanded field of self representations We invite authors to take interdisciplinary global perspectives to investigate various sub genres aesthetic practices and lineages in which selfies intervene to enrich the discourse on self representation in the expanded field today
