Migrations And Cultures A World View:

Migrations And Cultures Thomas Sowell, 2025-04-01 Most commentators look at the issue of immigration from the viewpoint of immediate politics. In doing so they focus on only a piece of the issue and lose touch with the larger picture. Now Thomas Sowell offers a sweeping historical and global look at a large number of migrations over a long period of time. Migrations and Cultures shows the persistence of cultural traits in particular racial and ethnic groups and the role these groups' relocations play in redistributing skills, knowledge, and other forms of human capital. It answers the question: What are the effects of disseminating the patterns of the particular set of skills, attitudes, and lifestyles each ethnic group has carried forth both for the immigrants and for the host countries in social as well as economic terms?

Transforming Worldviews

Paul G. Hiebert, 2008-05-01 In the past changes in behavior and in belief have been leading indicators for missionaries that Christian conversion had occurred. But these alone or even together are insufficient for a gospel understanding of conversion. For effective biblical mission, Paul G. Hiebert argues, we must add a third element: a change in worldview. Here he offers a comprehensive study of worldview: its philosophy, its history, its characteristics, and the means for understanding it. He then provides a detailed analysis of several worldviews that missionaries must engage today, addressing the impact of each on Christianity and mission. A biblical worldview is outlined for comparison. Finally, Hiebert argues for gospel ministry that seeks to transform people's worldviews and offers suggestions for how to do so.

Interdisciplinary Measures

Graham Huggan, 2008-01-01 Where now for postcolonial studies? That is the central question in this new volume from one of the field's most original thinkers. Not so long ago the driving force behind postcolonial criticism was literary; increasingly, however, many have claimed that the future of postcolonial studies is interdisciplinary. Interdisciplinary Measures thoroughly considers this alternative trajectory through the field of postcolonial studies by setting up a series of conversations among these newly postcolonial disciplines, notably geography, environmental studies, history, and anthropology, and literary studies, in which the imaginative possibilities of non-Western epistemologies are brought to the fore.

Maritime Transport and Migration

Torsten Feys, 2007 The Atlantic in Global History, 1500-2000 Jorge Cañizares-Esguerra, Erik R. Seeman, 2007 This reader, composed of original essays by leading authors, expands the category of the Atlantic chronologically, spatially, and methodologically. It firmly places the Atlantic within global history and the coverage expands into the nineteenth and twentieth centuries. The essays present events that formed the nations and cultures of the Atlantic region and show their global roots and how they intertwine with non-Atlantic communities of the world.

"Home is the Sailor" Peter Charles

Meilaender, 1999 The Salisbury Review, 1996 Civic Education & Culture Bradley C. S. Watson, 2005 What do we teach our citizens? This great Platonic question is as crucial today as it has ever been. America and the West come to terms with this question in the context of their richly diverse, technologically sophisticated, fundamentally individualistic societies. Virtually all would agree that such diversity, sophistication, and freedom are positive political and cultural goods, but many would also argue that they militate against the coherence that all regimes and civilizations must in some way demand. The nature extent and coherence of civic education are perhaps the greatest determinants of a regime's politics and culture and the regime can in turn do much to foster the right kind of civic education. This book presents the insights of renowned scholars and writers including Stephen H Balch, Timothy Fuller and Roger Kimball who have thought broadly and deeply about the role that education at all levels plays in promoting, maintaining or undermining our politics, culture and society.

Immigration and Politics in the Caribbean Valentina Peguero, 2008 The little known settlements of Japanese immigrants in the Dominican Republic are the basis for this richly informed history of 20th century migration to the Caribbean and Latin America. Yet the connection of Japan to the region is strong with a considerable volume of trade and approximately 1.5 million individuals of Japanese descent in this area an estimated 60% of them in Brazil. Dr Peguero conducted extensive fieldwork and research and weaves together the history of racism and eugenics, nationalism, war, colonialism, power, money, population, food, needs, language and culture for this revealing examination of immigration to the Caribbean. Migrations and Diasporas William Arrocha, Elena Xeni, 2023-11-23 Advocating for a more welcoming world involves respecting the human dignity and fundamental rights of all individuals regardless of their place of origin or immigration status. This perspective offers a powerful insight into the dynamics of social justice across borders.

Immigration and Integration in Urban Communities Lisa M. Hanley, Blair A. Ruble, Allison M. Garland, 2008-05-28 In nations across the globe, immigration policies have abandoned strategies of multiculturalism in favor of a play the game by our rules or leave mentality. Immigration and Integration in Urban Communities shows how immigrants negotiate with longtime residents over economic, political, cultural and linguistic boundaries. Host communities are neither as static nor migrants as passive as assimilationist policies would suggest. Drawing on anthropology, political science, sociology and geography and focusing on such diverse cities as Washington D C, Rome, Los Angeles, Johannesburg, Munich and Dallas, the contributors to this volume challenge both policy makers and academic analysts to reframe their discussions of urban migration and to recognize the contemporary immigrant city as the dynamic constantly shifting form of social organization it has become Forbes, 1996
