Telecare Technologies and the Transformation of Healthcare N. Oudshoorn, 2011-10-27 Winner of the British Sociological Association Foundation for the Sociology of Health and Illness Book Prize 2012 This book traces the changes in healthcare implicated in telecare technologies information and communication technologies that enable care at a distance What happens when healthcare moves from physical to virtual encounters between healthcare professionals and patients What are the consequences for patients when they are expected to do things that used to be done by healthcare professionals What actually happens when homes become electronically wired to healthcare organizations These are urgent questions that are however largely absent in dominant discourses on telecare Drawing on insights from science technology and human geography this work opens up novel accounts of the adoption and use of new technologies in healthcare Nelly Oudshoorn shows how telecare technologies participate in redefining the responsibilities and identities of patients and healthcare professionals introducing a new category of healthcare workers and changing the kinds of care and spaces where healthcare is situated This book intervenes critically into discourses that celebrate the independence of place and time by showing how places and physical contacts still matter in care at a distance Transforming Healthcare Ankush Jain, Vishal Srivastava, Gaurav Singal, Mohamed Mosbah, 2025-07-28 This comprehensive volume explores cutting edge technologies groundbreaking methodologies and insightful ethical considerations It brings together leading minds and research across diverse domains offering readers a glimpse into the future of healthcare From leveraging AI in diagnostics and personalized treatments to advancing telemedicine and remote patient monitoring the text addresses real world challenges and opportunities in the rapidly evolving healthcare industry Key features Innovative approaches to early disease detection including Alzheimer's and cancer using machine learning and deep learning techniques State of the art applications of design thinking meta heuristics and federated learning in healthcare Ethical perspectives on the use of AI technologies and their impact on businesses and patient care A deep dive into the role of IoT NLP and AI driven image processing in revolutionizing healthcare delivery Generalized models analyzing trade credits and their implications for healthcare supply chains Whether you're a researcher healthcare professional or technology enthusiast this book serves as an invaluable resource for understanding and shaping the future of health technologies Packed with diverse perspectives and actionable insights it's a must read for anyone passionate about making a difference in healthcare Ageing with Smartphones in Uganda Charlotte Hawkins, 2023-09-28 Ageing with Smartphones in Uganda is based on a 16 month ethnography about experiences of ageing in a neighbourhood in central Kampala Uganda It examines the impact of smartphones and mobile phones on older people's health and everyday lives as part of the global ASSA project Taking a convivial approach which celebrates multiple ways of knowing about social life Charlotte Hawkins draws from these expressions about cooperative morality and modernity to consider the everyday mitigation of profound social change Dotcom is understood to encompass everything from the influence of ICTs to urban migration and lifestyles in the city to shifts in ways of knowing and relating At the same time dotcom tools such as mobile phones and smartphones facilitate elder care through for example regular mobile money remittances This book explores how dotcom relates to older people s health their care norms their social standing their values of respect and relatedness and their intergenerational relationships both political and personal It also re frames the youth centricity of research on the city and work new media and technology politics and service provision in Uganda Through ethnographic consideration of everyday life and self formation in this context the monograph seeks to contribute to an ever incomplete understanding of how we relate to each other and to the world around us Service Design and Service

Thinking in Healthcare and Hospital Management Mario A. Pfannstiel,Christoph Rasche,2018-12-28 This book examines the nature of service design and service thinking in healthcare and hospital management By adopting both a service based provider perspective and a consumer oriented perspective the book highlights various healthcare services methods and tools that are desirable for customers and effective for healthcare providers In addition readers will learn about new research directions as well as strategies and innovations to develop service solutions that are affordable sustainable and consumer oriented Lastly the book discusses policy options to improve the service delivery process and customer satisfaction in the healthcare and hospital sector The contributors cover various aspects and fields of application of service design and service thinking including service design processes tools and methods service blueprints and service delivery creation and implementation of services interaction design and user experience design of service touchpoints and service interfaces service excellence and service innovation The book will appeal to all scholars and practitioners in the hospital and healthcare sector who are interested in organizational development service business model innovation customer involvement and perceptions and service experience The Collective Spirit of Aging Across Cultures Halaevalu F.Ofahengaue

Vakalahi,Gaynell M. Simpson,Nancy Giunta,2014-01-28 The collective inclusive and intersectional framework used in this book speaks to the significance of understanding aging across diverse cultures from multiple perspectives but still as a shared human experience The underlying message of the book is that although we are unique and different in our aging processes we are ultimately connected through this physical mental and spiritual experience of aging Thus regardless of whether we are service providers service recipients educators or merely fellow human beings it is important that we approach the aging experience through a collective lens for discovering and sharing resources as we age honoring the past while simultaneously accepting that the future is here A few select examples of key findings from this collaborative work are as follows First despite progress in the field certain issues remain to be addressed including the challenges of racism and sexism mistreatment the digital divide poverty and other social and economic crises in urban and rural communities as they relate to our aging population Second the need for sustaining a sense of independence among the aged and interdependence among supportive systems is warranted Third our elders continue to benefit from culturally competent services community based health interventions and social services that addresses normative and emerging challenges for them Fourth spirituality in both indigenous and contemporary perspectives remains important for our elders development and quality of life

Digital Transformations in Care for Older People Helena Hirvonen, Mia Tammelin, Riitta Hänninen, Eveline J.M. Wouters, 2021-11-29 The book investigates digitalisation in care for older people by giving insight into service users and professionals opportunities to digital agency in the context of European welfare states With a focus on service users and providers experiences of digital care the contributions address the manifold and often contradictory consequences of active ageing policies and innovation programmes To assess digital agency of older people ageism and co creation in the innovation processes as well the use of digital platforms are addressed while care professionals digital agency is examined through empirical cases that focus on the interaction between human and non human actors in long term care services the temporality and spatiality of care and the organisational requirements for successful implementation of digital technologies From a variety of conceptual and theoretical viewpoints the chapters provide a comprehensive and timely overview of ways to address the phenomena of ageing and digitalisation The book provides critical vantage points to academic readership health and social care professionals policymakers other stakeholders as well as the general audience on the effects of digitalisation in care for older people The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license The Open Access fee was funded by University of Jyväskylä Finland
