Culinary Palettes Lesley A. Wolff, 2025-04-01 How the visual culture of food cookery and consumption played a central role in the making of postrevolutionary Mexico Postrevolutionary Mexico City was a site of anxious nation building as rampant modernization converged and clashed with the nation's growing nostalgia for its pre-Columbian heritage During this volatile period food became a meaningful symbol for a Mexican citizenry seeking new modes of national participation Culinary Palettes explores how the artistic invocation of food cultures became an arena in which to negotiate the political entanglements of postrevolutionary Mexico Lesley Wolff casts a nuanced eye on the work of visual artists such as Tina Modotti Carlos González and Rufino Tamayo who nurtured the symbolic and performative power of iconic foods such as pulque mole poblano and watermelon Through analysis of a wide array of visual evidence including paintings architecture vintage postcards menus and cookbooks Culinary Palettes demonstrates how these artists positioned their work within a broad visual landscape that relied upon the power of Mexican foodways in the urban and national imagination In the studios of modernists Wolff argues artistic production foodways and Indigeneity proved to be mutually constitutive and at times weaponized agents in articulating competing claims to a new nationhood
