Heath, 2013-05-02 This book is at the interface between Visual Studies and Biblical Studies and is the only monograph to date on St Paul's visual piety Heath argues that biblical scholarship has downplayed this worldly visibility in Christian culture and that the exegesis of Paul is both a partial cause and a symptom of this disciplinary blind spot

Clement of Alexandria and the Shaping of Christian Literary Practice J. M. F. Heath,2020-12-17 Clement of Alexandria s Stromateis were celebrated in antiquity but modern readers have often skirted them as a messy jumble of notes When scholarship on Greco Roman miscellanies took off in the 1990s Clement was left out as different because he was Christian This book interrogates the notion of Clement s Christian difference by comparing his work with classic Roman miscellanies especially those by Plutarch Pliny Gellius and Athenaeus The comparison opens up fuller insight into the literary and theological character of Clement s own oeuvre Clement s Stromateis are contextualised within his larger literary project in Christian formation which began with the Protrepticus and the Paedagogus and was completed by the Hypotyposeis Together this stepped sequence of works structured readers reorientation purification and deepening prayerful converse with God Clement shaped his miscellanies as an instrument for encountering the hidden God in a hidden way while marvelling at the variegated beauty of divine work refracted through the variegated beauty of his own textuality Paul and Image Philip Erwin,2020-09-29 In Paul and Image Philip Erwin challenges conventional interpretations of 1 Corinthians that tend to overlook the significance of ancient Roman visual culture in framing and posing exegetical questions He argues that in 1

Corinthians Paul engaged in a long standing philosophical discussion of visual representation with consequential implications for how he and his Corinthian addressees interacted with the imagery around them By situating Paul s letter in the context of the critical discourse on visual representation from Plato to Philo to the Second Sophistic Erwin redefines Paul s critique of human wisdom treatment of idols and resurrection discourse in visual terms
