Chemical Engineering Interview Simulator & Trainer

Command your Professional Worth On-the-Spot!

Every day, thousands of well-qualified Chemical engineering professionals walk out of job interviews - facing rejections.

Interviewers don't trust them because they fail to respond convincingly on the spot. They don't sound like they "actually" earned their degrees! The focus, energy, & passion crucial for professional survival and success are not seen!

The tragedy is that most of them can write the answer on a piece of paper! But, they can't convincingly speak it on the spot! This single shortcoming ruins the lives of millions of well-qualified people, even forcing many to drugs and suicides.

Realising the crucial nature of the problem & the absence of a reliable solution, a global team of 52 professionals decided to step in - to find a sure-fire, result-oriented method.

This simulator is the result of their eight years of research on "What Went Right" and "What Went Wrong" with about 218,000 candidates they have collectively interviewed.

Handling a job interview is a psycho-motor skill like car driving. You must have the reflex to handle any eventuality that can shockingly come up. The only way to gain this mastery is to work in similar environments until the skill becomes a habit.

Interview calls are difficult to come by. You can't create them for "practice". And, a few minutes of mock-interviews don't add any value. Therefore Interview Simulator, it reveals your modules so that interviewers don't find them out! It uncovers your shortcomings that even a close friend hesitates to tell you! Therefore, when you face the actual interview, you will feel it as a very familiar repetition of this simulation!
