Governance in Contemporary Law Noah Maringe, Innocent Chirisa, 2026-02-13 This book employs a qualitative approach to dissect contemporary legal debates surrounding sustainability efficiency and efficacy in government systems with a particular focus on Zimbabwe s constitutional democracy An effective legal framework characterised by robust laws that promote sustainability and enhance the efficiency of governmental systems is the book argues essential for the success of a nation Exploring sustainable development as a multifaceted initiative aimed at advancing economic and socio political well being the book delves into the concept of good governance defined by the accountable exercise of power transparent government selection and the efficient management of resources Within Zimbabwe s legal framework where all laws practices and conduct are subject to constitutional validation the book underscores the obligatory nature of constitutional duties for individuals the State and all executive legislative and judicial bodies Positing that sustainable resource management underpinned by equitable and unbiased legislation is essential for Zimbabwe s long term prosperity the book demonstrates how effective legal frameworks can drive national success The book will be of interest to researchers in the field of sustainability environmental law and governance COVID-19 and women's intersectionalities in Africa

Ashwanee Budoo-Scholtz, Adetokunbo Johnson, 2023-05-23 COVID 19 has become one of the most severe issues dominating discussions on the agendas of states globally and across the African continent since its emergence in 2019 The COVID 19 pandemic has regrettably brought into sharp focus the continued multiple and intersecting forms of discrimination faced by women and girls in Africa because of their intersecting identities Yet paradoxically although African women are disproportionately affected by the crisis they are largely invisible in the responses Several African states and governments have taken different policy measures in response to the pandemic These responses have taken different dimensions including shutting down economies imposition of lockdowns coercive quarantine measures with police enforcement and criminal consequences for offenders violating these rules Unfortunately these responses have reinforced and amplified women s disproportionate disadvantage and gender inequalities in Africa Against this backdrop this book asks the intersectional question about women s experiences during the COVID 19 pandemic in Africa Applying an intersectional human rights lens involves questioning how the intersecting identities that African women embody affect their experiences of the COVID 19 pandemic

5th Report on the World Nutrition Situation, 2004 Accountability for Mass Starvation Bridget Conley, Alex de Waal, Catriona Murdoch, Wayne Jordash QC, 2022-09-01

Famine is an age old scourge that almost disappeared in our lifetime Between 2000 and 2011 there were no famines and deaths in humanitarian emergencies were much reduced The humanitarian agenda was ascendant Then in 2017 the United Nations identified four situations that threatened famine or breached that threshold in north eastern Nigeria Somalia South Sudan and Yemen Today this list is longer Each of these famines is the result of military actions and exclusionary authoritarian politics conducted without regard to the wellbeing or even the survival of people Violations of international law including blockading ports attacks on health facilities violence against humanitarian workers and obstruction of relief aid are carried out with renewed impunity Yet there is an array of legal offenses ranging from war crimes and crimes against humanity to genocide available to a prosecutor to hold individuals to account for the deliberate starvation of civilians However there has been a dearth of investigations and accountability for those violating international law The reasons for this neglect and the gaps between the black letter law and practice are explored in this timely volume It provides a comprehensive overview of the key themes and cases required to catalyze a new approach to understanding the law as it relates to starvation It also illustrates the complications of historical and ongoing situations where starvation is used as a weapon of war and provides expert analysis on defining starvation early warning systems gender and mass starvation the use of sanctions journalistic reporting and memorialization of famine
