Critical, Historical and Miscellaneous Essays Thomas Babington Macaulay Baron Macaulay, 1860 Critical and Miscellaneous Essays Thomas Babington Macaulay Baron Macaulay, 1841 Miscellaneous Essays Charles Lamb, 2009-02-05 Charles Lamb 1775 1834 was one of the great masters of the essay at a time when the essay was a powerful and influential literary form This collection first published in 1921 presents a range of Lamb's essays from throughout his career each accompanied by explanatory notes Lamb here addresses topics as diverse as moral and personal deformity recollections of Christ's Hospital and the inconveniences resulting from being hanged He discusses the work of Hogarth and Shakespeare and records his sadness at the death of his friend Samuel Taylor Coleridge Together the essays offer a fascinating insight into the Romantic age through the eyes of one of its most prominent literary figures

Miscellaneous Essays and Addresses William Stirling Maxwell, 1891 Miscellaneous Essays George Saintsbury, 2015-06-02 Excerpt from Miscellaneous Essays These rules are Never to like anything old merely because it is old or anything new merely because it is new never to judge anything in literature or politics except from the historical and comparative standpoint and always to put the exposition of the subject before the display of personal cleverness The last essay here that on The Present State of the English Novel will be found to be almost entirely new A little of its substance has previously appeared in different forms first in a Florentine periodical some seven or eight years ago and then in the Fortnightly Review for February 1888 But this old matter is the smallest part of it and I have endeavoured to adjust the whole in a different fashion from that followed in either of these papers so as to make it less of a review of particular works and particular writers more of a discussion and presentment of the moment in literature About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
