This book uniquely combines gender theory case studies and the legal challenges surrounding the mechanisms of gender discrimination at work It provides the student with real life examples from managers based on interviews with people who experienced discrimination that help students understand how gender discrimination operates even when there are legal protections against it At the end of each case study students are asked to put themselves in the shoes of the individual experiencing the discrimination and ask themselves reflect on how they would handle the situation Students must examine their own beliefs about gender and work place practices and consider consequences of actions they might take In addition to the sections of theory cases and legal challenges websites of interest are included student assignments and classroom activities Key features include Engaging case studies embedded in each chapter Legal cases that highlight each chapter and lend credibility to each case study Discussions of international global situations Suggestions for student assignments projects

News, Inc. David O. Dowling, 2025-06-16 Taking a critical historical approach this book examines the convergence of journalism and advertising industries that has led to the blurring of commercial and editorial functions within news organizations This book considers the rise of brand journalism as it is broadly conceived across multiple genres and media forms from brand produced interactive documentaries such as Google s Beyond the Map to sponsored multimedia features videos and podcasts made by news and non governmental organizations Focusing on cases in North America and Europe Dowling traces the origins of brand journalism and addresses key debates and disruptions brought about by the widespread adoption of the reportorial role by non profits and corporations These include journalistic concerns around threats to independence and impartiality and the commodification of reportorial integrity as well as the reverse perspective in terms of the advertising industry s adjustment to consumer ad avoidance This project aims to situate these media products industrially and culturally in the context of competition for market share in the digital publishing industry Ultimately the study determines how the popularity of branded news content depends on the adaptability of corporate brands in spaces not typically associated with advertising and in some cases not yet discovered by competitors News Inc is recommended reading for advanced students and researchers in fields including Digital Journalism Public Relations and Marketing Communications
