The Role of the Charity Commission and Public Benefit Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons. Public Administration Select Committee, 2013 This report into the implementation of the Charities Act 2006 finds the Charity Commission being asked to do too much with too little The charitable sector is at the heart of UK society involving millions of people and 9.3 billion received in donations in 2011/2012 Around 25 new applications for charitable status are received by the Charity Commission every working day Among the reports findings are one of the keys tests set by the Charities Act 2006 for determining charitable status the public benefit test is critically flawed the Government should revise the statutory objectives for the Charity Commission to allow the Commission to focus its limited resources on regulating the sector the proposal to increase the financial threshold for compulsory registration of a charity with the Charity Commission should be rejected charities should publish their spending on campaigning and political activity PASC criticises the way the Charity Commission has interpreted public benefit under the Act The Committee also considered the impact of face to face fundraising or chugging on the street or on the doorstep and warns that self regulation has failed so far to generate the level of public confidence which is essential to maintain the reputation of the charitable sector The evidence was clear that the regulation of fundraising remains a concern for many members of the public Two in three people have reported feeling uncomfortable as a result of the fundraising methods used by some charities

The Dot-Com Debacle and the Return to Reason Louis E.V. Nevaer, 2002-02-28 This work shows how the return of common sense is opening new opportunities for the creation of wealth in battered industries entertainment foremost among them It shows that while the online economy is a fraction of the total economy it has implications for the development of American society

ENERGY 2040 Deepak Divan, Suresh Sharma, 2024-03-18 Access to energy is essential for our daily lives economic growth environment and sustainability However our use of fossil fuels has contributed to global climate change which poses a significant threat to society and life on this planet Yet it has been challenging to reconcile the perceived conflict between economics and climate change which has created deep divisions in our society ENERGY 2040 Aligning Innovation Economics and Decarbonization provides a holistic and comprehensive analysis of the ongoing energy transition and its underlying causes It presents a viable path to meet the energy economic and climate goals by weaving together science technology economics policy entrepreneurship and geopolitics The book presents a captivating narrative that brings together a range of topics including new and disruptive technologies with steep learning rates the challenges of the future power grid the democratization of energy and reducing the timeline from science to impact at scale It also explores the complex role of scientific research disruptive deep tech entrepreneurship and policy in accelerating this energy transformation This book is a must read for anyone interested in understanding the future of energy Whether you re a scientist energy industry practitioner policymaker investor student or concerned citizen this book offers critical insights into the complex and evolving world of energy innovation decarbonization and climate change
