

Scholarship Application

The field of educational technology has grown and changed greatly over the years. The most significant changes have been in the areas of hardware, software, and the integration of these technologies into the classroom. In the 1970s and 1980s, the focus was on basic skills training and computer-aided instruction. By the 1990s, the focus had shifted to more sophisticated learning management systems and the use of the Internet for distance education. Today, the field is characterized by a rapid pace of innovation, with new technologies being developed and implemented at an ever-increasing rate. This has led to a variety of new educational opportunities, including online learning, blended learning, and personalized learning. The future of educational technology is bright, and it is expected that it will continue to play a major role in the education of the 21st century.

Direct Student Loan DL program supported an estimated 33.1 billion in new loan volume. Several types of loans are available: Federal need-based subsidized Stafford loans under which the government pays the interest while the borrower is in school; a grace period of deferment; unsubsidized Stafford loans; Federal PLUS loans for parents of undergraduate students; and Federal Consolidation loans. Overall student loan volume has been increased in recent years from 24 billion in FY1994 to 33 billion in FY2000. The number of loans being made has increased over the same period going from 6,483,000 to 8,618,000. The average amount that individual students are borrowing in any given year has not increased as dramatically. This new book examines important issues related to this cornerstone of American higher education. The Scholarship & Financial
