Excerpt from Memoirs of the Life and Writings of Thomas Chalmers D D LL D Vol 3 The Editor has to apologize for a delay in the publication of this volume occasioned by a severe illness He has also to express his great regret that the present is not the last volume of these Memoirs When he first undertook his task he divided the life of Dr Chalmers into three periods the first from his birth in 1780 to the close of his ministry at Kilmany in 1815 the second from the commencement of his ministry at Glasgow to the termination of his professorship at St Andrews in 1828 the third from the time of his appointment to the Chair of Theology at Edinburgh till his death in 1847 Each of these periods he intended to embrace within a single volume and it was not till more than half of the second volume was in a form which prevented alteration that he perceived that he must either suddenly and very considerably contract the scale of narrative and so throw aside much of what he thought should once at least be presented to the public or venture upon a fourth volume In these circumstances presuming on the indulgence of the reader he has chosen the latter alternative About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works

James Chalmers Richard Lovett, 2016-06-15 Excerpt from James Chalmers His Autobiography and Letters James Chalmers was a man of God s own making He early recognized the Divine influence within and around him and like St Paul himself he did not refuse to be persuaded by the heavenly vision He owed little to education or to the influences that mould the majority of men He owed all that he was to his sense of the boundless love of Jesus Christ he gave his whole being in loyal and enthusiastic surrender to the Saviour who had redeemed him he caught a large measure of the Master s own Spirit and he counted it his highest joy to be spent in the effort to win for Christ the drunkards of Rarotonga and the cannibals of New Guinea Chalmers was absolutely unconventional He paid little heed to the common standards of life and made no effort to direct his course along the ordinary grooves of thought and of action He was restless impulsive to some extent the creature of mood At times he appeared to be easily elated easily depressed But at the base of his personality there was a strong will an indomitable purpose a plan in life that refused to be modified by opposition or suffering or external difficulties of any kind The author has chosen the plan followed in this book deliberately and from the conviction that it will best accomplish the ideal at which he has aimed That is to present to the reader the real James Chalmers with no attempt to round off angles to reduce seeming incompatibilities or
