Palestine and the International Criminal Court Seada Hussein Adem, 2019-04-05 This book deals with the possible investigation and prosecution by the International Criminal Court ICC of crimes allegedly committed in the Israeli Palestinian conflict In light of the Rome Statute and the Practice of the Office of the Prosecutor of the Court among others it examines the route possible outcomes and challenges that may arise were the Palestine situation to be brought before the ICC The subject matter is approached using the route the Prosecutor of the Court would generally employ to deal with situations The publication offers a step by step procedure by which to conduct the preliminary examination and investigation of the situation in Palestine and deals with matters of jurisdiction followed by a discussion of the fundamental concepts of complementarity and gravity to determine the admissibility before the ICC Alleged crimes particularly unique to the Israeli Palestinian conflict such as the construction of settlements forced displacement house demolitions the expropriation of land the crime of apartheid and the blockade of Gaza are dealt with in light of the Rome Statute and international law On the basis of the established theories of transitional justice the possible impacts of an ICC investigation and prosecution on the conflict are analysed and a number of insights are shared with regard to the impacts of the ICC on combatting impunity fostering Palestine's statehood peace negotiations and the stability of the region Due to the politicisation of the conflict and the various interests at stake the impact of the ICC's involvement on the credibility of the ICC itself is also reviewed Recognizing the numerous impacts of the conflict on the existence of the two nations and the multitude of causes for its perpetuity it does not limit itself to the ICC but also provides other conflict resolution alternatives that could enable reconciliation and sustainable peace in the region This book provides an array of opinions and a crucial input for researchers and practitioners alike while it is also useful to those investigating and possibly involved in prosecutions regarding Palestine or other similar situations before the ICC Seada Hussein Adem obtained a PhD from Humboldt University of Berlin Germany an LLM from the University of the Western Cape South Africa and an LLB from Haramaya University Ethiopia div Human Rights and Power in Times of Globalisation Ekaterina Yahyaoui Krivenko, 2017-12-18 How does globalisation affect the ability of human rights to constrain power This is the central question of this volume that tackles the issue from a variety of perspectives It covers such branches of international law and human rights as diplomatic protection powers of the UN Security Council responsibility of international organisations accountability of multinational corporations third generation rights law of armed conflict and state sovereignty The contributions problematize the role of human rights and call for rethinking of the structure and functioning of human rights The contributions adopt a variety of disciplinary perspectives that all elucidate difficulties human rights face in a globalised world and suggest ways forward The Palgrave Geopolitical Atlas Brian C. H. Fong, 2025-12-11 The Palgrave Geopolitical Atlas State and Quasi State Actors in Great Power Competition is a comprehensive authoritative survey of the twenty first century global politics Going beyond the traditional state centrism in the international relations discipline this book re orients both states and quasi states as critical geopolitical actors. This book challenges the state centrism in orthodox international relations scholarship. Advancing a post sovereign lens this book re imagines a global geopolitical map that features different types of states and quasi states. By doing so this book transcends the mainstream great power small state framework in geopolitical studies and advances a novel agenda for investigating the interaction of states and quasi states in global politics. It guides readers to interpret the twenty first century global geopolitical map through a post sovereign lens. This book will be an essential reference for international relations scholars and students around the world. It will also appeal to global policy makers and practitioners who are observing the dynamics of contemporary great power competition.

Feminist Engagement with International Criminal Law

Eithne Dowds, 2020-01-23. This work introduces and further develops the feminist strategy of norm transfer the proposal that feminist informed standards created at the level of international criminal law make their way into domestic contexts. Situating this strategy within the complementarity regime of the International Criminal Court (ICC) it is argued that there is an opportunity for dialogue and debate around the contested aspects of international norms as opposed to uncritical acceptance. The book uses the crime of rape as a case study and offers a new perspective on one of the most contentious debates within international and domestic criminal legal feminism the relationship between consent and coercion in the definition of rape. In analysing the ICC definition of rape it is argued that the omission of consent as an explicit element is flawed. Arguing that the definition is in need of revision to explicitly include a context sensitive notion of consent the book goes further setting out draft legislative amendments to the ICC Elements of Crimes definition of rape and its Rules of Procedure and Evidence. Turning its attention to the domestic landscape the book drafts amendments to the United Kingdom UK Sexual Offences Act 2003 and to the Youth Justice and Criminal Evidence Act 1999 thereby showing how the revised version of the ICC definition can be applied in context of the UK.

Victims, Atrocity and International Criminal Justice

Rachel Killean, 2018-07-03. While international criminal courts have often been declared as bringing justice to victims their procedures and outcomes historically showed little reflection of the needs and interests of victims themselves. This situation has changed significantly over the last sixty years victims are increasingly acknowledged as having various rights while their need for justice has been deployed as a means of justifying the establishment of international criminal courts. However it is arguable that the goals of political and legal elites continue to be given precedence and the ability of courts to deliver justice to victims remains contested. This book contributes to this important debate through an examination of the role of victims as civil parties within the Extraordinary Chambers in the Courts of Cambodia. Drawing on a series of interviews with civil parties court practitioners and civil society actors the book explores the way in which both the ECCC and the role of victims within it are shaped by specific political economic and legal contexts examining the gap between the legitimising value of the imagined victim and the extent to which victims are able to further their interests within the courtroom.

Discourse,

normative change and the quest for reconciliation in global politics Judith Renner,2018-02-28 This book offers a new and critical perspective on the global reconciliation technology by highlighting its contingent and highly political character as an authoritative practice of post conflict peacebuilding After retracing the emergence of the reconciliation discourse from South Africa to the global level the book demonstrates how implementing reconciliation in post conflict societies is a highly political practice which entails potentially undesirable consequences for the post conflict societies to which it is deployed Specifically the book shows how the reconciliation discourse brings about the marginalisation and neutralisation of political claims and identities of local post conflict populations by producing these societies as being composed of the victims and perpetrators of past human rights violations which are first and foremost in need of reconciliation and healing This book will interest students and teachers of transitional justice and international relations

The "Third" United Nations Tatiana Carayannis,Thomas G. Weiss,2021-02-04 The Third UN is the ecology of supportive non state actors intellectuals scholars consultants think tanks NGOs the for profit private sector and the media that interacts with the intergovernmental machinery of the First UN member states and the Second UN staff members of international secretariats to formulate and refine ideas and decision making at key junctures in policy processes Some advocate for particular ideas others help analyze or operationalize their testing and implementation many thus help the UN think While think tanks knowledge brokers and epistemic communities are phenomena that have entered both the academic and policy lexicons their intellectual role remains marginal to analyses of such intergovernmental organizations as the United Nations

The Oxford Handbook of the Responsibility to Protect Alex Bellamy,Tim Dunne,2016-06-30 The Responsibility to Protect R2P is intended to provide an effective framework for responding to crimes of genocide ethnic cleansing war crimes and crimes against humanity It is a response to the many conscious shocking cases where atrocities on the worst scale have occurred even during the post 1945 period when the United Nations was built to save us all from the scourge of genocide The R2P concept accords to sovereign states and international institutions a responsibility to assist peoples who are at risk or experiencing the worst atrocities R2P maintains that collective action should be taken by members of the United Nations to prevent or halt such gross violations of basic human rights This Handbook containing contributions from leading theorists and practitioners including former foreign ministers and special advisors examines the progress that has been made in the last 10 years it also looks forward to likely developments in the next decade

The EU as a State-builder in International Affairs Labinot Grejlevci,2021-11-04 This book presents a systematic in depth and comparative analysis of the role of the EU in the process of international state building and is one of the first comprehensive books to do so at an international level Taking the case of Kosovo it examines the EU s role in the birth of a state in comparison to other international actors from 1999 to 2008 and moves on to analyse the EU s role in norm diffusion in the post independence period 2008 2020 Throughout the book the author draws parallel analyses with broader debates and scholarly literature regarding the EU s role as a state builder or norm diffuser Combining a liberal peace thesis framework with the normative power Europe NPE approach it analyses how successful the EU and other international actors were in the diffusion of tangible and normative impacts in the process of state building in Kosovo 1999 2008 along with the EU s diffusion of normative impact from 2008 to 2020 Finally it scrutinises the role of the EU and other international actors in the processes of state building through transference tools funding and overt tools political role This book will be of key interest to scholars and students of EU foreign policy European politics peace and conflict studies the Western Balkans state building international organisations and more broadly to international relations Resilience in EU and International Institutions Elena Korosteleva,Trine Flockhart,2020-12-17 This book explores the concept and practice of resilience that has generated much debate among both scholars and practitioners The contributions propose a new understanding of resilience both as a quality and a way of thinking taking it to the level of the person and the local to argue that a more sustainable way to govern the world today is bottom up and inside out While carrying a seemingly unifying message of self reliance adaptation and survival in the face of adversity resilience curiously continues to appear as all things to all people making it hard for the EU and international institutions to make full use of its arresting potential Engendering resilience today in the highly volatile and uncertain world hit by crises pandemic and diminishing control becomes a priority as never before This book develops a more comprehensive view of resilience by looking at it both as a quality of the system and a way of thinking inherent to the local that cannot be engineered from the outside It is argued in this volume that in some cases the level of the person especially the person s sense of what constitutes a good life may be the most appropriate focus for understanding change and strategic adaptation in response to it This understanding widens the scope of discussion from what makes an entity system or person more adaptable to how one can best govern today to establish a stable equilibrium between the global and the local the external and the internal and become more responsive to the challenges and changes of today s highly uncertain world The chapters in this book were originally published in the journal Contemporary Security Policy Georgetown Journal of International Law ,2005 The Globalization of World Politics John Baylis,Steve Smith,Patricia Owens,2008 Now in its fourth edition this internationally successful text has been fully revised and updated in light of recent developments in world politics with new chapters on the changing nature of war human security and international ethics A comprehensive introduction to international relations it is ideally suited to students coming to the subject for the first time It provides a coherent accessible and lively account of the globalization of world politics FEATURES Contains work from an impressive line up of international contributors who are experts in their fields the chapters have been carefully edited in order to ensure an integrated and coherent style throughout the book Covers history theory structures and processes and international issues Offers a visually stunning 4 color interior Enhanced by a comprehensive Companion Website www.oup.com/uk/orc/bin/9780199297771 that includes a test bank PowerPoint slides case studies multiple choice questions links to journal articles a flashcard glossary and new to this edition video clips video pod casts of contributors and
