Fabricating Plasticity in Aluminum Heather Roberge, 2025-03-05 This book argues for the value of the material prototype as a critical site of design innovation through a series of design and architectural case studies. Illustrated by physical objects such as chairs, columns, and building facades, these full-scale material investigations reflect their designers' deep knowledge of material manufacturing and geometry. The projects do not simply express how they are made, rather, their designers leverage the capacities of metal forming to exert distinctive influence on the object's expression and performance, embracing manufacturing processes as instruments of material innovation. Organized in two parts, part one presents the material framework informing work by Arad, Newson, Heatherwick, Future Systems, Foster, OMA, Rex, Hadid, and others. Seven metal forming techniques including Press Forming, Press Brake Forming, Spinning, Panel Beating, Casting, Extruding, and Superplastic Forming are presented alongside work implemented with these processes. Part two presents original design research, Thermoformed aluminum, facade systems, ask critical questions of The Part, Tessellation, The Mold, Tooling, The Seam, and the Finish Post Processing, illustrating the potential of design inquiry when techniques of material production alter techniques of design. Aluminum is redefined, inheriting a plasticity which alters the intrinsic qualities of its raw production. For students and professionals in the fields of industrial design and architecture, this book presents an optimistic role for material in the design process.
