Metaphor and Meaning in Psychotherapy Ellen Y. Siegelman,1993-08-01 When therapists hear patients talk of feeling imprisoned burning with rage trapped or unequipped they are witnessing manifestations of the symbolic attitude the hallmark of all depth psychology Most clinicians naturally respond to and use metaphors but they often fail to understand the full potential of metaphoric images This volume in addressing the transforming power of metaphor demonstrates how clinicians can deepen the therapeutic encounter Metaphor and Meaning in Psychotherapy Lynne Angus,1989

Kierkegaard to begin the conversation in each chapter the author then draws on relevant theologians and psychotherapeutic thinkers to enrich the dialogue The result is a rich multi faceted and often surprising round table discussion about the fundamental issues in pastoral counselling Introduction 1 Part 1 Fundamental Attitudes and Skills 1 Respect for the Uniqueness of the Counsellee or Resisting the Totalizing Tendency 2 Empathy and the Body or the Quest for Participatory Sense Making 3 Deep Listening or Being Formed in the Discipline of Attention 4 Conditions for Genuine Dialogue or It s the Relationship that Heals 5 Relational Humanness and Relational Justice or Caring for Two Worlds Part 2 Fundamental Interventions and Strategies 6 Revising Faulty Thinking or a Socratic Approach to Healing Belief Sickness 7 Facilitating Self Challenge or Learning the Art of Indirection 8 Working with Counsellee Images or Exploring the Metaphors We Live By 9 Connecting with a Community of Hope or Pastoral Rituals that Shine a Light Concluding Reflection It s Also about Personal Spirituality

Metaphors in Psychotherapy Kevin William Grant,2020-01-28 Kevin William Grant examines the cognitive processes that produce metaphors in psychotherapy The I Ching Task is the measure of metaphor production applied in this research inquiry Two cognitive processes are hypothesized to be necessary for the production of a metaphor The first hypothesized cognitive process is sensory imaginal processing where attention is concentrated into one s internal experiencing and sensory awareness to form sensory impressions or sensory images The second type of processing is called integration synthesis processing and this is hypothesized to work in parallel with sensory imaginal processing Integration synthesis processing functions to combine conflicting or contradictory elements into an integrated whole Metaphor is the meeting point of these processes and all of them are important in the production of metaphor in psychotherapy Revised and updated from the first edition published in 1991 have been information processing behavior therapy Constructivist psychology and dynamic psychotherapy Each of these sources have added color shading and depth to the CT model What was originally uni dimensional in terms of the CT focus on depression has become multidimensional as the CT model has been applied to virtually every patient population treatment setting and therapy context CT must now be seen as a general model of psychotherapy that with modifications can be applied to the broad range of clinical problems and syndromes What has tied these various applications of CT together is the emphasis on a strong grounding in cognitive theory a commitment to empirical support and a dedication to broadening the model
