Lynn R. Wilkinson

Mesmerism And The End Of The Enlightenment In France:

Mesmerism and the End of the Enlightenment in France Robert Darnton, 1968 Early in 1788 Franz Anton Mesmer arrived in Paris and began to promulgate an exotic theory of healing that almost immediately seized the imagination of the general populace Robert Darnton's lively study provides a useful contribution to the study of popular culture and the manner in which ideas are diffused down through various social levels The Dream of an Absolute Language Lynn R.

Wilkinson, 1996-07-03 Traces the reception of Swedenborg's doctrine of correspondences in French literature and culture from the late 1700s to 1870 The Cambridge History of Science: Volume 7, The Modern Social Sciences David C.

Lindberg, Theodore M. Porter, Roy Porter, Ronald L. Numbers, 2003-08-04 This volume provides a history of the concepts practices institutions and ideologies of social sciences including behavioural and economic sciences since the eighteenth century It offers original synthetic accounts of the historical development of social knowledge including its philosophical assumptions its social and intellectual organization and its relations to science medicine politics bureaucracy philosophy religion and the professions Its forty two chapters include inquiries into the genres and traditions that formed social science the careers of the main social disciplines psychology economics sociology anthropology political science geography history and statistics and international essays on social science in Eastern Europe Asia Africa and Latin America It also includes essays that examine the involvement of the social sciences in government business education culture and social policy This is a broad cultural history of social science which analyzes from a variety of perspectives its participation in the making of the modern world Mesmerism and the End of the Enlightenment in France Robert Darnton, 1968 Studies on Voltaire and the Eighteenth Century, 1998

The Sixth Sense Reader David Howes, 2024-11-01 What is the sixth sense Is it physical mental or spiritual Do we all possess it or is it unique to exceptional individuals Might there be a seventh sense and an eighth sense as well What role does culture play in determining the range of our perceptual abilities The search for a supplementary sense has taken many directions and yielded numerous possibilities for an additional faculty of perception from magnetism and movement to dreaming and clairvoyance Stimulating reflection and debate The Sixth Sense Reader explores the cultural contexts which give rise to such reports of psychic and other powers that exceed the ordinary bounds of sense In this groundbreaking volume leading scholars in history anthropology and biology take the reader on a tour of the far borderlands of consciousness From the world beneath to the world beyond the five senses every potential avenue of sensation is opened up for investigation Richard and Maria Cosway Gerald Barnett, 1995 A biography of the Cosways two fascinating but often neglected figures in the artistic history of England This carefully researched study emphasises their achievements as artists and their stature in late 18th century society The Darnton Debate Voltaire Foundation, 1998 Ever since Professor Robert Darnton aroused the interest of all Enlightenment scholars with the publication of The High Enlightenment and the Low Life Literature in pre revolutionary France in 1971 he has been in the forefront of debate about that period and the French Revolution which followed it His work has long been an indispensable study for all those who ponder on the nature and evolution of these great movements By the mid 1990s however it was apparent that Darnton's far reaching conclusions on the relationship of the Enlightenment to the Revolution together with his historical accounts of printed works and the mentalities of the eighteenth century merited a comprehensive debate on his whole oeuvre The present collection sparks off that debate The contributors to this volume were invited freely to address any particular aspect of Robert Darnton's researches or to discuss the whole thrust of his thinking about the past Darnton readily agreed to this proposal encouraging the editor to send invitations to long standing critics just as much as to more sympathetic readers The essays collected here respond to the original request in diverse ways Taking up a whole spectrum of positions about Darnton's work they attempt an answer based on deep reflection or assiduous source research or both In a coda to the volume Robert Darnton responds robustly to the various readings of his work In places he seeks to rescue it from what he considers to be false interpretations and to set the record straight But his essay is not just a rebuttal It moves the debate on bringing new insights and information not previously published His conclusion are as flexible open ended as one could wish and in line with which they have been richly plumbed in his writings The threads running through the various essays are drawn together by a comprehensive index of eighteenth century persons and writings

The Literature of Catastrophe Carlos Fonseca, 2020-05-14 This book investigates how nature and history intertwined during the violent aftermath of the Latin American Wars of Independence Synthesizing intellectual history and readings of textual production The Literature of Catastrophe reimagines the emergence of the modern Latin American nation states beyond the scope of the harmonious foundational fictions that marked the emergence of the nation as an organic community Through a study of philosophical literary and artistic representations of three catastrophic figures earthquakes volcanoes and epidemics this book provides a critical model through which to refute these state sponsored happy narratives proposing instead that the emergence of the modern state in Latin America was indeed a violent event whose aftershocks are still felt today Engaging a variety of sources and protagonists from Simón Bolívar's manifestoes to Cesar Aira's use of landscape in his novels from the revolutionary role mosquitoes had within the Haitian Revolution to the role AIDS played in the writing of Reinaldo Arenas posthumous novel Carlos Fonseca offers an original retelling of this foundational moment recounting how history has become a site where the modern division between nature and culture collapses

The Age of Minerva: Counter-rational reason in the eighteenth century Paul Ilie, 1995 The first volume of a trilogy about aberrant reason and the cognitive fault lines that expose the discontinuities underlying empirical reality fault lines that are embedded in the discourses of literature art social analysis biology and philosophy

The Age of Minerva Paul Ilie, 1995

Jean Paul Marat Clifford D. Conner, 1998 Marat a central character in one of history's most significant social transformations has been alternately hailed as a heroic leader in the French Revolution and condemned as a bloodthirsty fanatic During the Revolution Marat was a crusading agitational journalist Before the Revolution however he was a scholar scientist and medical doctor Unlike previous biographies which have concentrated on the last four years of his fifty year life this one covers both of Marat s two lives The Self as Mind Charles J. Rzepka,1986 Transactions of the American Philosophical Society ,1983 Held at Philadelphia for promoting useful knowledge Encyclopedia of the Victorian Era: Mann-Spin ,2004 American Studies ,1999 Convention and Originality in the Description of the Eye and the Glance in the French Realist Novel, 1800-1860 Peter Holbrook Robinson,1971 History of the Life Sciences Pieter Smit,1974 Originated as a plan to produce an extension of those parts of Sarton s Guide to the History of Science that deal with the life sciences Over 4000 entries to international literature primarily monographic published to mid 1971 Entries arranged under broad sections dealing with general reference works historiography of the life and medical sciences during the past and into the 20th century and selected biographical titles Numbered columns Index of personal names Science, Politics, and Society in Eighteenth-century Italy Brendan Maurice Dooley,1986 Christian Apologetics in France, 1730-1790 William R. Everdell,1987 This text seeks to show why and how the anti religious attitude of Enlightenment writers gave way to the acceptance and even revival of religious sentiment in the early 19th century
