Metadiscourse Exploring Interaction In Writing Ken Hyland:

Metadiscourse Ken Hyland, 2018-10-18 First released in 2005 Ken Hyland's Metadiscourse has become a canonical account of how language is used in written communication. Metadiscourse is defined as the ways that writers reflect on their texts to refer to themselves, their readers, or the text itself. It is a key resource in language as it allows the writer to engage with readers in familiar and expected ways and as such it is an important tool for students of academic writing in both the L1 and L2 context. This book achieves for main goals to provide an accessible introduction to metadiscourse, discussing its role and importance in written communication and reviewing current thinking on the topic to explore examples of metadiscourse in a range of texts from business, academic, journalistic, and student writing to offer a new theory of metadiscourse to show the relevance of this theory to students, academics, and language teachers. The book shows how writers use the devices of metadiscourse to adjust the level of personality in their texts to offer a representation of themselves and their arguments. It shows how these tools help the reader organise, interpret, and evaluate the information presented in the text. Knowing how to identify metadiscourse as a reader is a key skill to be learnt by students of discourse analysis and this book makes this a central goal.

Dialogicity in Written Specialised Genres Luz Gil-Salom, Carmen Soler-Monreal, 2014-07-15

Dialogicity in Written Specialised Genres analyses how human beings intentionally establish a network of relations that contribute to the construction of discourse in different genres in academic promotional and professional domains in English Spanish and Italian The chapters in the present volume investigate individual voices both those assumed by the writer and those attributed to others and how they act interpersonally and become explicit in the discourse From a number of different research approaches contributing authors focus on various textual components self mention impersonation attribution markers engagement markers attitude markers boosters hedges reporting verbs politeness strategies and citations The collection is unusual in that it addresses these issues not only from the perspective of English but also from that of Spanish and Italian It thus represents a refreshing reassessment of the contrastive dimension in the study of voice and dialogic relations taking into consideration language specialised fields and genre The volume will appeal to researchers interested in language as multidimensional dialogue particularly with regard to different written specialised texts from different linguistic backgrounds Novice writers may also find it of help in order to attain a greater understanding of the dialogic nature of writing

Emotion in Discourse J. Lachlan Mackenzie, Laura Alba-Juez, 2019-03-15

Interest in human emotion no longer equates to unscientific speculation 21st century humanities scholars are paying serious attention to our capacity to express emotions and giving rigorous explanations of affect in language We are unquestionably witnessing an emotional turn not only in linguistics but also in other fields of scientific research Emotion in Discourse follows from and reflects on this scholarly awakening to the world of emotion and in particular to its intricate relationship with human language The book presents both the state of the art and the latest research in an effort to unravel the various workings of the expression of emotion in discourse It takes an interdisciplinary approach for emotion is a multifarious phenomenon whose functions in language are enlightened by such other disciplines as psychology neurology or communication studies The volume shows not only how emotion manifests at different linguistic levels but also how it relates to aspects like linguistic appraisal emotional intelligence or humor as well as covering its occurrence in various genres including scientific discourse As such the book contributes to an emerging interdisciplinary field which could be labeled emotionology transcending previous linguistic work and providing an updated characterization of how emotion functions in human discourse Linguistics and Language Behavior Abstracts ,2009-04 Academic Evaluation Ken Hyland,Giuliana Diani,2009-08-12 Summary from OCLC Academic criticism can be highly fraught and threatening potentially wounding to the reviewed author and disruptive to the discipline but it occurs routinely in review genres This book explores how academics publically evaluate each others work Focusing on blurbs book reviews review articles and literature reviews the international contributors to the volume show how writers manage to critically engage with others ideas argue their own viewpoints and establish academic credibility while simultaneously navigating these risky interactions Pragmatics ,2012 Studies in the Literary Imagination ,2019
