iCity. Transformative Research for the Livable, Intelligent, and Sustainable City Volker Coors, Dirk Pietruschka, Berndt Zeitler, 2022-10-16 This open access book presents the exciting research results of the BMBF funded project iCity carried out at University of Applied Science Stuttgart to help cities to become more liveable, intelligent and sustainable. To become a LIScity, the research has been pursued with industry partners and NGOs from 2017 to 2020. A LIScity is increasingly digitally networked, uses resources efficiently and implements intelligent mobility concepts. It guarantees the supply of its grid bound infrastructure with a high proportion of renewable energy. Intelligent cities are increasingly human centered, integrative and flexible, thus placing the well-being of the citizens at the center of developments to increase the quality of life. The articles in this book cover research aimed to meet these criteria. The book covers research in the fields of energy, i.e. algorithms for heating and energy storage systems, simulation programs for thermal local heating supply, runtime optimization of combined heat and power (CHP), natural ventilation, mobility, i.e. charging distribution and deep learning, innovative emission friendly mobility, routing apps, zero emission urban logistics, augmented reality, artificial intelligence for individual route planning, mobility behavior information platforms, i.e. 3DCity models in city planning, sunny places visualization, augmented reality for windy cities, internet of things, IoT monitoring to visualize device performance, storing and visualizing dynamic energy data of smart cities and buildings, and city planning, i.e. sound insulation of sustainable facades and balconies, multi-camera mobile systems for inspection of tunnels, building integrated photovoltaics (BIPV) as active facade elements, common space, the building envelopes potential in smart sustainable cities.

Organisational Behaviour and Design Alessandra Ricciardelli, Marco Valeri, 2025-04-21 This book focuses on conceptual frameworks, debates, tools and developments in the fields of organizational behaviour and organizational design. It analyses the concepts related to organizational behaviour such as leadership, organizational climate and motivation at one side and focuses on the general framework for organizational design in detail in all its components: strategy, environment, processes, people, leadership, information and knowledge system etc. at the other side. The analysis of the psychological factors affecting organizational design also drives to think of possible different configurations of the main components of organizational structure and design that may be a good fit alignment between behaviour and design. In the Industry 4.0 era, human resources and personal factors are increasingly central and strategic; therefore, it is important to understand how psychological factors affect organizational design. It provides a practical guidance on this area of study for developing and implementing the desired organizational architecture. Hence, it takes a managerial perspective to identify practices and behaviour resulting in meaningful and satisfying organizational experience vis-à-vis the evolving nature of structures and contexts. The book broadens readers' understanding of the role of organizational behavior and design issues in organizational performance while focusing on design changes to remedy organization's core problems. Given these premises, it will be of interest to scholars and professionals in the field of organizational behaviour, job design and job crafting, strategic management and studies at large, who can contribute to organizations' evolution towards more harmonious organizational design configurations.
