International Perspectives Linda L. Neider, Chester Schriesheim, 2007 Overall our objective for this volume is to stimulate additional conceptualizations and research in the very broad area of international management Hopefully the insightful chapters presented here will show not only the challenges involved in understanding such a complex domain but additionally show that substantial progress is being made to untangle the various complexities As in the past there are a number of individuals we wish to thank First we thank Susan Stearns for her tremendous help in making sure that all of the pieces fit together so well as we organized this volume Preventing Unemployment in Europe Paul Klemmer, Rüdiger Wink, 2000

Some of the fundamental issues the book tackles include the extent to which the conditional framework for preventive labour market policy is undergoing change the response mechanisms to these changes which characterise national strategies and the learning processes which can be triggered through the exchange of national experiences within the EU the discussions within the book benefit from both an economic analysis of the subject matter complemented by a broader social science approach The editors have produced a resource which should prove invaluable for both policymakers and academics in the fields of labour market theory and policy BOOK JACKET
