

AP Language and Composition Pacing Guide

The English III - AP Language and Composition class is a year-long college level class in which eleventh-grade students read complex texts with greater understanding and develop richness, clarity, and complexity in their own writing. The content of the course includes an in-depth study of various types of writing, such as: description, narration, persuasion and argumentation, and exposition. The course of study includes the mechanics, process, and analysis of written expression. Students utilize methods of writing that encourage "intelligent writing" instead of simply "mechanically- correct" writing. The course also includes in-depth analyses of classic and contemporary American literature. ~~All students in this course are expected to take the AP Language and Composition exam in May 2015, and the course work reflects a constant goal toward reaching a qualifying score on that exam. Students are also required to attend Saturday Academy sessions and weekly tutoring.~~

This course is paired with AP US History and the English curriculum is designed to complement AP USH whenever possible.

The College Board suggests the following Course Requirements:

(CR1) The course requires students to write in informal contexts (e.g., imitation exercises, journal keeping, collaborative writing, and in-class responses) designed to help them become increasingly aware of themselves as writers and of the techniques employed by the writers they read.

(CR2) The course requires expository, analytical, and argumentative writing assignments that are based on readings representing a wide variety of prose styles and genres.

(CR3) The course requires nonfiction readings (e.g., essays, journalism, political writing, science writing, nature writing, autobiographies/biographies, diaries, history, and criticism) that are selected to give students opportunities to identify and explain an author's use of rhetorical strategies and techniques. If fiction and poetry are also assigned, their main purpose should be to help students understand how various effects are achieved by writers' linguistic and rhetorical choices.

(CR4) The course teaches students to analyze how graphics and visual images both relate to written texts and serve as alternative forms of text themselves.

(CR5) The course teaches research skills, and in particular, the ability to evaluate, to use, and to cite primary and secondary sources. The course assigns projects such as the researched argument paper, which goes beyond the parameters of a traditional research paper by asking students to present an argument of their own that includes analysis and synthesis of ideas from an array of sources.

(CR6) The course teaches students how to cite sources using a recognized editorial style (e.g., MLA, APA, The Chicago Manual...).
