Pagans Vows Three Of The Pagan Chronicles:

Pagan's Vows Catherine Jinks, 2007-07-01 Follows the adventures of Pagan squire to Lord Roland through the years 1188 to 1189 as he accompanies his master now determined to be a monk to the French monastery of St Martin and uncovers a dangerous blackmail plot The Chronicle of Zuqnīn, Parts III and IV Pseudo-Dionysius (of Tel-Mahrē), Amir Harrak, 1999 John's early admiration for the Emperor and his subsequent frustration with him are vividly portrayed Crusading and Chronicle Writing on the Medieval Baltic Frontier Marek Tamm, Linda Kaljundi, Carsten Selch Jensen, 2016-04-22 The Chronicle of Henry of Livonia written by a missionary priest in the early thirteenth century to record the history of the crusades to Livonia and Estonia around 1186-1227 offers one of the most vivid examples of the early thirteenth century crusading ideology in practice Step by step it has become one of the most widely read and acknowledged frontier crusading and missionary chronicles Henry's chronicle offers many opportunities to test and broaden the new approaches and key concepts brought along by recent developments in medieval studies including the new pluralist definition of crusading and the relationship between the peripheries and core areas of Europe While recent years have produced a significant amount of new research into Henry of Livonia much of it has been limited to particular historical traditions and languages A key objective of this book therefore is to synthesise the current state of research for the international scholarly audience The volume provides a multi-sided and multi-disciplinary companion to the chronicle and is divided into three parts The first part Representations brings into focus the imaginary sphere of the chronicle the various images brought into existence by the amalgamation of crusading and missionary ideology and the frontier experience This is followed by studies on Practices which examines the chronicle's reflections of the diplomatic religious and military practices of the Christianisation and colonisation processes in medieval Livonia The volume concludes with a section on the Appropriations which maps the reception history of the chronicle the dynamics of the medieval early modern and modern national uses and abuses of the text Chronicles, 1991 Crusade and Conversion on the Baltic Frontier 1150-1500 Alan V. Murray, 2017-07-05 This volume represents a major contribution to the history of the Northern Crusades and the Christianization of the Baltic lands in the Middle Ages from the beginnings of the Catholic mission to the time of the Reformation The subjects treated range from discussions of the ideology and practice of crusade and conversion through studies of the motivation of the crusading countries Denmark Sweden and Germany and the effects of the crusades on the countries of the eastern Baltic coast Finland Estonia Livonia Prussia and Lithuania to analyses of the literature and historiography of the crusade It brings together essays from both established and younger scholars from the western tradition with those from the modern Baltic countries and Russia and presents in English some of the fruits of the first decade of historical scholarship and dialogue after the collapse of the Iron Curtain The depth of treatment diversity of approaches and accompanying bibliography of publications make this collection a major resource for the teaching of the Baltic Crusades A Religious Encyclopaedia: Or Dictionary of
