Authorship attribution in Turkish Texts Hülya Kocagül Yüzer,2022-12-31 The latest developments in the field of computer technology have created new ways to share information without time and space limits Computer technologies have not only made life easier and more accessible for users but they have also opened up a new arena for illegal activities These illegal actions have found an opportunity to spread via e mails websites Internet chat rooms forum pages and social networking websites like Facebook Twitter Instagram Online contributors do not need to provide information such as their real names the city where they live age or gender in order to share their opinions and such feelings of anonymity encourage criminal activities Thus disputed authorship cases have become one of the main challenges of the technological era This research is a corpus based simulated authorship casework application in Turkish Texts for the corpora were collected from a collaborative online encyclopaedia Eksi Sozluk Sour Times and Twitter The corpus consists of 900 texts from 52 authors in total However 105 texts belong to seven authors from Twitter The two methodological approaches that were applied are qualitative and statistical methods according to Grant s 2013 approach Ten different tests were applied depending on the various parameters that are forensically possible in real world cases Accordingly the role of feature type size including the candidate author size text size and a limited number of texts per author and finally cross genre application were tested The analyses revealed that such a combined approach has promising results in some tests in that they attributed authorship in Turkish The findings of the research indicated that there is the potential to attribute unknown authors in Turkish and it appears that the results have significant conclusions for the broader application of forensic authorship attribution techniques in Turkish texts

Legal-Lay Discourse

and Procedural Justice in Family and County Courts Tatiana Grieshofer,2024-04-18 Focusing on adversarial legal settings this Element explores discursive practices in court proceedings which often involve unrepresented parties private family proceedings and small claims cases Such proceedings present the main caseload of county and family courts but pose immense challenges when it comes to legal lay communication Drawing on court observations alongside textual and interview data the Element pursues three aims 1 developing the methodological and theoretical framework for exploring discursive practices in legal settings 2 establishing the link between legal lay discourse and procedural justice 3 presenting and contextualising linguistic phenomena as an inherent part of court research and practice The Element illustrates how linguistic input can contribute to procedural changes and court reforms across different adversarial and non adversarial legal settings The exploration of discursive practices embedded in court processes and procedures consolidates and advances the existing court research conducted within the fields of socio legal studies and forensic and legal linguistics This title is also available as Open Access on Cambridge Core

Core Foundations and Contemporary Issues in Forensic Psychology

Dean Fido,Masood Zangeneh,Karin Spenser,2026-01-01 This student focused handbook aims to guide forensic psychology

students in using theory in an applied settings and developing specialized research methods to tackle contemporary issues in forensic psychology. It comprises five sections that outline popular topics taught in forensic psychology programs. Each chapter follows an identical structure and includes core theories, applications, case studies, where relevant, chapter summaries, discussion chapters and recommended reading. This structure aims to facilitate formative discussion and learning while expanding core forensic psychology teachings to include more diverse perspectives and culturally sensitive assessment tools for those engaged in clinical and forensic practices.

Capturing Talk: The Institutional Practices Surrounding the Transcription of Spoken Language Martha Komter, Helen Fraser, Emma Richardson, Felicity Deamer, Kate Haworth, Debbie Loakes, 2024-05-22

Across a range of institutional settings practitioners and professionals are eliciting and capturing spoken talk from clients (Sarangi 1998) transcribing that talk and later repurposing the transcripts in place of the original interaction. This Research Topic seeks both to shed light on this often overlooked institutional process and to encourage further linguistic input into this area of professional practice. Transcription is almost always an institutional practice (Park, Bucholtz 2009) providing a written record of spoken interaction to be used by another party at a later date in another setting or context. There are a number of underappreciated features and consequences of this transformational process which we hope this Research Topic will expose and examine.

The Routledge Handbook of Forensic Linguistics Malcolm Coulthard, Alison Johnson, 2010-03-30

The Routledge Handbook of Forensic Linguistics provides a unique work of reference to the leading ideas, debates, topics, approaches and methodologies in Forensic Linguistics. Forensic Linguistics is the study of language and the law, covering topics from legal language and courtroom discourse to plagiarism. It looks at the linguist as expert providing evidence for the defence and prosecution, investigating areas from blackmail to trademarks and warning labels. The Routledge Handbook of Forensic Linguistics includes a comprehensive introduction to the field, written by the editors, and a collection of thirty seven original chapters written by the world's leading academics and professionals, both established and up and coming, designed to equip a new generation of students and researchers to carry out forensic linguistic research and analysis. The Routledge Handbook of Forensic Linguistics is the ideal resource for undergraduates or postgraduates new to the area. Malcolm Coulthard is Professor of Forensic Linguistics at Aston University, UK. Author of numerous publications, the most recent being An Introduction to Forensic Linguistics (co-authored with Alison Johnson, Routledge 2007). Alison Johnson is Lecturer in Modern English Language at Leeds University, UK. Previous publications include An Introduction to Forensic Linguistics (co-authored with Malcolm Coulthard, Routledge 2007).
