Ordinary Cities Between Modernity And Development Questioning Cities:

Ordinary Cities Jennifer Robinson, 2013-07-04 With the urbanization of the world's population proceeding apace and the equally rapid urbanization of poverty urban theory has an urgent challenge to meet if it is to remain relevant to the majority of cities and their populations many of which are outside the West This groundbreaking book establishes a new framework for urban development It makes the argument that all cities are best understood as ordinary and crosses the longstanding divide in urban scholarship and urban policy between Western and other cities especially those labelled Third World It considers the two framing axes of urban modernity and development and argues that if cities are to be imagined in equitable and creative ways urban theory must overcome these axes with their Western bias and that resources must become at least as cosmopolitan as cities themselves Tracking paths across previously separate literatures and debates this innovative book a postcolonial critique of urban studies traces the outlines of a cosmopolitan approach to cities drawing on evidence from Rio Johannesburg Lusaka and Kuala Lumpur Key urban scholars and debates from Simmel Benjamin and the Chicago School to Global and World Cities theories are explored together with anthropological and developmentalist accounts of poorer cities Offering an alternative approach Ordinary Cities skilfully brings together theories of urban development for students and researchers of urban studies geography and development

Globalization, Violence and the Visual Culture of Cities

Christoph Lindner, 2009-09-10 This book is the first interdisciplinary volume to examine the complex relationship between globalization violence and the visual culture of cities

Cities and Race David Wilson, 2007-01-24 This fascinating book examines the 1990s rise of a new black ghetto in rust belt America the global ghetto It uses the emergent perspective of racial economy to delineate a fundamental proposition historically neglected and marginalized black ghettos in a 1990s era of societal boom and bust have become more impoverished more stigmatized and functionally ambiguous as areas As these ghettos grow in size and become more stigmatized entities in contemporary society our understanding of them in relation to evolving cities and society has not kept pace This book looks to the heart of this misunderstanding to find out how race and political economy in cities dynamically connect in new ways racial economy to deepen deprivation in these areas This book is an essential read for students of geography urban studies and sociology

Cities in Globalization

Peter Taylor, Ben Derudder, Pieter Saey, Frank Witlox, 2006-11-20 Despite traditionally being a strong research topic in urban studies inter city relations had become grossly neglected until recently when it was placed back on the research agenda with the advent of studies of world global cities More recently the external relations of cities have taken their place alongside internal relations within cities to constitute the full nature of cities This collection of essays on how and why cities are connecting to each other in a globalizing world provides evidence for a new city centered geography that is emerging in the twenty first century Cities in Globalization covers four key themes beginning with the different ways of measuring a world city network ranging from analyses of corporate structures to airline passenger flows Second is the recent European advances in studying urban systems which are compared to the Anglo American city networks approach These chapters add conceptual vigour to traditional themes and provide findings on European cities in globalization Thirdly the political implications of these new geographies of flows are considered in a variety of contexts the localism of city planning specialist political world cities and the war on terror Finally there are a series of chapters that critically review the state of our knowledge on contemporary relations between cities in globalization Cities in Globalization provides an up to date assembly of leading American and European researchers reporting their ideas on the critical issue of how cities are faring in contemporary globalization and is highly illustrated throughout with over forty figures and tables      Addressing the Climate Crisis Candice Howarth,Matthew Lane,Amanda Slevin,2021-10-04 This open access book brings together a collection of cutting edge insights into how action can and is already being taken against climate change at multiple levels of our societies amidst growing calls for transformative and inclusive climate action In an era of increasing recognition regarding climate and ecological breakdown this book offers hope inspiration and analyses for multi level climate action spanning varied communities places spaces agents and disciplines demonstrating how the energy and dynamism of local scales are a powerful resource in turning the tide Interconnected yet conceptually distinct the book s three sections span multiple levels of analysis interrogating diverse perspectives and practices inherent to the vivid tapestry of climate action emerging locally nationally and internationally Delivered in collaboration with the UK s Place Based Climate Action Network chapters are drawn from a wide range of authors with varying backgrounds spread across academia policy and practice      Worlding Home Maren Larsen,2025-10-28 Worlding Home interrogates the social spatial and architectural lifeworlds of United Nations UN peacekeepers accommodated in contingent camps throughout Goma the capital of North Kivu in the Democratic Republic of the Congo From 2017 to 2019 more than twenty of these camps existed in and around the city operating as sites of global outreach even as they generated new ways of being at home for peacekeepers and the peace kept population Through multisited ethnography and deep engagement with anthropological and urban theory author Maren Larsen explores the entanglements of camp and city Pushing against readings of Goma s peacekeeping camps as either more privileged enclaves or as outliers in camp studies when compared to refugee camps Larsen argues for an understanding of camp as a process and practice Between dwelling and journeying and here and there the everyday lives and embodied practices of Goma s peacekeepers and Congolese civilians co construct a city as elsewhere in which camping is a vital urban practice By offering a more expansive understanding of how UN peacekeeping camps fit within Goma s urban fabric Worlding Home reveals the intertwined sociospatial processes of making a home building a city and reimagining the world      Reason in the City of Difference Gary Bridge,2004-06 This book re establishes a notion of conscious agency in our understanding of urban life Using empirical examples and drawing on pragmatist ideas of experience and rationality this text offers a new alternative reading of the city      Inherited Land Whitney A. Bauman,Richard R. Bohannon II,Kevin J. O'Brien,2011-08-04 Religion and ecology has arrived

What was once a niche interest for a few academics concerned with environmental issues and a few environmentalists interested in religion has become an established academic field with classic texts graduate programs regular meetings at academic conferences and growing interest from other academics and the mass media Theologians ethicists sociologists and other scholars are engaged in a broad dialogue about the ways religious studies can help understand and address environmental problems including the sorts of methodological terminological and substantive debates that characterize any academic discourse This book recognizes the field that has taken shape reflects on the ways it is changing and anticipates its development in the future The essays offer analyses and reflections from emerging scholars of religion and ecology each addressing her or his own specialty in light of two questions 1 What have we inherited from the work that has come before us and 2 What inquiries concerns and conversation partners should be central to the next generation of scholarship The aim of this volume is not to lay out a single and clear path forward for the field Rather the authors critically reflect on the field from within outline some of the major issues we face in the academy and offer perspectives that will nurture continued dialogue

City Publics Sophie Watson, 2013-02-01 Some cities have grown into mega cities and some into uncontrolled sprawl others have seen their centres decline with populations moving to the suburbs In such times questions of the public realm and public space in cities warrant even greater attention than previously received Concerned with the borders and boundaries constraints and limits on accepting acknowledging and celebrating difference in public Sophie Watson through ethnographic studies interrogates how difference is negotiated and performed Focusing on spaces where to outside observers tension is relatively absent or invisible Watson also reveals how the boundaries between the public and private are being negotiated and redrawn and how public and private spaces are mutually constitutive Through her investigation of the more ordinary and less dramatic forms of encounter and contestation in the city Watson is able to conceive an urban public realm and urban public space that is heterogeneous and potentially progressive With numerous photographs and drawings City Publics not only throws new light on encounters with others in public space but also destabilizes dominant sometimes simplistic universalized accounts and helps us re imagine urban public space as a site of potentiality difference and enchanted encounters

Translating the City Hossam Aldy, Yves Pedrazzini, Stéphanie Vincent-Geslin, Yafiza Zorro, 2016-12-05 The city is a highly fragmented heterogeneous subject those who study analyze and question it make a use of a variety of disciplines and methods and have different areas of expertise How is a dialogue built between heterogeneous urban contexts and urban researchers architects developers anthropologists sociologists and political scientists What capacity do concepts and methods have to travel from one context to another How can they be transferred The strength of Urban Translations lies in its disciplinary and geographical comparison and dialogue on a global scale It openly targets an international audience bringing together leading researchers from a variety of disciplines urban planning sociology architecture and anthropology and presenting case studies from highly contrasting urban settings including Rio de Janeiro
