Studies in Intelligence, 2016 Economics of Terrorism and Counter-Terrorism Measures Satya P. Das, 2022-07-19 This textbook presents a systematic study of terrorism from the standpoint of economic analysis. Choosing the kind and level of measures to counter terror is to a large extent an economic decision as counterterrorism CT measures and their side effects are costly. This text contains theoretical models that illustrate the economic mechanisms of different types of CT measures. A vast array of empirical studies and regularities are also presented. Some chapters discuss in depth the empirical results in the literature as well as the underlying statistical econometric methodologies that go beyond ordinary regression. General Appendix A provides an exposition of the concept of compensating surplus and elements of the basic game theory to help the reader with an economics background. Recapitulate micro theory concepts used in the book. General Appendix B lays out the notions of hypothesis testing regression and more advanced statistical econometric methods so that the reader understands or at least can have an intuitive idea of how the results are derived and what they mean with some degree of inner comfort. Aimed at students at the intermediate undergraduate and graduate levels the text requires knowledge of basic micro first order conditions of profit or utility maximization and cost minimization and statistical concepts of hypothesis testing and regression. This textbook is intended for use in courses in economics political science criminal justice and emergency management. Additionally professionals working with national security in government and non governmental organizations may find it useful.

Talking Book Topics, 2016 A Hindu-Jewish Conversation Rachel Fell McDermott, Daniel F. Polish, 2024-02-15 A Hindu Jewish Conversation Root Traditions in Dialogue is a historical theological and phenomenological engagement of the Hindu and Jewish traditions two root traditions that give rise to other in some ways very different types of religious traditions. Rachel Fell McDermott and Daniel F Polish explore conceptions of the divine which are frequently cited as the most serious obstacle to a serious theological engagement between the two traditions. Differences in attitude towards heroes saints and holy people the religious resources and challenges experienced by Hindu and Jewish women what can be learned about Hindu and Jewish spiritual outpouring by comparing Hindu devotional poetry and the Book of Psalms the ways in which the two traditions address the fraught question of theodicy or why bad things happen to good people the status of the land and nationalist claims on it and the uncomfortable question of caste and its possible social parallels in the Jewish tradition. The authors weave considerations of these topics into an ongoing conversation that offers students of both traditions new ways of thinking both about their intersections and about the history of religion in general A coda explores these same issues by recounting an actual series of discussions convened between Hindu and Jewish practitioners
