Pantone Coating Color Formula Guide:

Color in Graphic Design Daniela Queiroz, Lucas Almeida, 2020-02-25 Color is an essential factor in design considering that it has a significant impact on the performance of the brand's communication marketing and sales. The color should not be chosen just because we like it or because we think it looks good since these are subjective values. There must be research on their meanings and associations, always remembering that they depend on cultural perceptions and that it is therefore important to know the audience we are working for. We often face the situation of not knowing which colors to choose for each of our designs due to the lack of knowledge about color theory and psychology. Unfortunately, the internet is full of inaccurate information. Still, in this e-book, we have addressed these topics correctly so the color selection process for each of your projects becomes an easy task. Pantone Color Formula Guide, 1999

Pantone Color Formula Guides Pantone, Inc. (Carlstadt, NJ), 2009 Includes eight indispensable color guides that every print and graphic design professional requires to ensure quality results. This value package provides the basics for selecting, specifying, and matching both solid and process colors. Accompanying publisher's descriptive sheet.

Digital Color Correction Pete Rivard, 2006 Look inside for these features: clear and concise explanations show how to prioritize color correction options from simple to difficult and from the least to most likely to succeed; solid framework for understanding digital imaging explains how to measure color proofing and printing to evaluate compliance with industry and in-house standards before and after images show how flaws in images can be corrected; step-by-step strategies for efficient image correction help readers make sense of the many numbers involved in working with digital images; and a companion CD features sample images, color control elements not available anywhere else, and unique exercises designed to deliver a solid understanding of the color process.
