

Standard interface and extensions for plug-in connectivity

AC5500 drives offer a wide range of standard interfaces.

In addition, the drive has two option slots that can be used for extensions, including fieldbus adapters and input/output extension modules that allow an external +24 V supply with frame sizes R01 to R5.

For frames R06-R11 external +24 V terminals are already integrated on the control board. For further information, please see the AC5500 user manual.
