Good Meal Prep Ideas For Beginners and Dummies

Barbara Dawson, 2020-08-18 Meal prepping is making a meal or recipe then portioning it out to store for later. If you've ever kept leftovers from dinner to take with you for lunch the next day, you've learned that meal prepping refers to preparing 3-7 days worth of food at a time. This kind of meal prep is the week long instead of eating out every day. You can use this same technique for breakfast, lunch, dinner, and snacks. Meal prepping involves not throwing away food waste and reducing the amount of time spent on meal planning and preparation. When considering meal prep, it's important to take into account the cost of ingredients, the time required to prepare the meals, and the nutritional value of the meals. It's also important to consider the convenience factor, as meal prep can save time and reduce stress. However, it's important to remember that meal prep is not for everyone. It's a good idea to try it out and see if it works for you. If you're not interested in meal prep, there are other ways to save time and money on groceries. For example, you can buy in bulk, use coupons, and plan your meals around sales. You can also use meal prep apps to help you plan and organize your meals. Overall, meal prep is a great way to save time and money on groceries, but it's important to consider your own needs and preferences before starting.
