

Basic Guide to 1930s Makeup

Part 2

Complexion was expected to be ivory. Undertone powders were beginning to come out in these ivory shades as well for white women to match their undertones.

Brows were shaved off or plucked thin and drawn on to achieve the thin, arched look. Tails were brought down to the temple and then brows would be coated with petroleum jelly or olive oil.

Sadly, the same beauty standard also translated to black women and women of color, resulting in lightening powders becoming the beauty standard for them in this time period.

I saw this specific ad far too often in my search for 30s makeup looks and felt the need to acknowledge the racism and colorism in this ad. I did more research and yes, this product was invented by a white man.

Please shade match to your skin tone. I have no expectations of achieving an "ivory" skin. This is all a compilation of things I have learned about 30s makeup.

Again, I have no expectations of plucking or shaving! Leave your brows alone!!

Liners weren't the bold black wings we know today. Typically, browns and greys would be used to tight line the eyes. If a wing was added, it was lightly smoked out with shadow. Liquid eyeliners weren't invented yet, so pencils were traditionally. Mascara also came in cakes, rather than tubes.
