University Rankings Jung Cheol Shin, Robert K. Toutkoushian, Ulrich Teichler, 2011-06-06 This ground breaking and exhaustive analysis of university ranking surveys scrutinizes their theoretical bases methodological issues societal impact and policy implications providing readers with a deep understanding of these controversial comparators The authors propose that university rankings are misused by policymakers and institutional leaders alike They assert that these interested parties overlook the highly problematic internal logic of ranking methodologies even as they obsess over the surveys assessment of their status The result is that institutions suffer from short termism realigning their resources to maximize their relative rankings While rankings are widely used in policy and academic discussions this is the first book to explore the theoretical and methodological issues of ranking itself It is a welcome contribution to an often highly charged debate Far from showing how to manipulate the system this collection of work by key researchers aims to enlighten interested parties The Global University Rankings T. Erkkilä, 2013-09-26 Global University Rankings explores the novel topic of global university rankings and their effects on higher education in Europe The contributions in this volume outline different discourses on global university rankings and explore the related changes concerning European higher education policies disciplinary traditions and higher education institutions The first global university rankings were published less than a decade ago but these policy instruments have become highly influential in shaping the approaches and institutional realities of higher education The rankings have portrayed European academic institutions in a varying light There is intense reflexivity over the figures leading to ideational changes and institutional adaptation that take surprisingly similar forms in different European countries The contributions in this book critically assess global university rankings as a policy discourse that would seem to be instrumental to higher education reform throughout Europe
