understand how these learning communities work and the best practices and challenges they face Experiences and Research on Enhanced Professional Development Through Faculty Learning Communities shares the experiences and research related to the enhanced professional development received by university faculty and staff participating in a series of collaborative faculty learning communities. The book using qualitative, quantitative and mixed methodologies considers educator experiences as participants in the faculty learning communities what they learned and how they applied and implemented best practices in their courses. Covering topics such as curricula, course design and rubrics, this reference book is ideal for administrators, higher education professionals, program developers, program directors, researchers, academicians, scholars, practitioners, instructors and students. Virtual Learning Communities Dina Lewis, Barbara Allan, 2005. Virtual Learning Communities is written to help managers, professionals and learners planning, facilitating or participating in online learning communities.

Building Online Learning Communities Rena M. Palloff, Keith Pratt, 2009-12-30. Building Online Learning Communities further explores the development of virtual classroom environments that foster a sense of community and empower students to take charge of their learning to successfully achieve learning outcomes. This is the second edition of the groundbreaking book by Rena Palloff and Keith Pratt and has been completely updated and expanded to include the most current information on effective online course development and delivery. A practical, hands-on guide, this resource is filled with illustrative case studies, vignettes and examples from a wide variety of successful online courses. The authors offer proven strategies for handling challenges that include: Engaging students in the formation of an online learning community, Establishing a sense of presence online, Maximizing participation, Developing effective courses that include collaboration and reflection, Assessing student performance. Written for faculty in any distance learning environment, this revised edition is based on the authors' many years of work in faculty development for online teaching as well as their extensive personal experience as faculty in online distance education. Rena M. Palloff and Keith Pratt share insights designed to guide readers through the steps of online course design and delivery.

Creating and Sustaining Online Professional Learning Communities Joni K. Falk, Brian Drayton, 2015-04-25. This volume presents the work of trailblazing researchers and developers of electronic communities for professional learning. It illuminates the essential work behind the scenes in building successful online communities and scaffolding site interactions, including content selection, creation and management, administrative structures, tools and interactive functionalities, the facilitation of discourse and emergent subcommunities, and the development of online leadership. While each of the authors is well versed in Web site design, new technologies and collaborative Web tools, their work is deeply influenced and informed by scholarship which has unfolded over the last three decades about how professional learning takes place, particularly for math and science educators. The communities and authors featured provide different forms of online professional development for university professors, K-12 teachers and administrators among others. Their insights will be of interest to anyone designing, sustaining or studying electronic learning.
