Healthy Aging Comparison Ideas:

Active and Healthy Aging and Quality of Life: Interventions and Outlook for the Future Yulan Lin,Waqas Sami,Mila Nu Nu Htay,Sudip Bhattacharya,2024-04-15 The continuous growth of older adult populations as a consequence of demographic changes is a huge challenge To prevent costly and negative impacts effects on the population as a whole it is crucial that societies increase their knowledge of promoting good health among older adults to promote good health and a better quality of life in their later years Active aging is the process of optimizing opportunities for health participation and security in order to enhance quality of life as people age An active and healthy life has remained one of the most important aspirations for all people both young and older adults alike This ambition has become a genuine possibility for many due to a rising life expectancy among people of diverse attributes across the world While celebrating longer life and with more financial security in later life than ever before we need to challenge how these aspirations can be sustained through our own behavioural responses and through public policy institutional reforms and innovations The challenge is to identify recommend and promote strategies and interventions that stimulate and sustain the activity independence and health of people of all ages especially older adults and in the process promote the well being and quality of life of people and make public welfare systems more sustainable

National Institutes of Health Annual Report of International Activities John E. Fogarty International Center for Advanced Study in the Health Sciences,1996 Comparison of the Living Conditions and Health Status of the Elderly in Taiwan and South Africa ,1995 Japan: Health-, Elderly- and Child- Care in Comparison to the German System: Based on a Case Study Anja Hellmann,2010-05 Research Paper undergraduate from the year 2009 in the subject Health Science grade 1 6 University of Applied Sciences Bremen language English abstract The development of the Japanese society is characterized by a lot of similarities to Germany This is why I have chosen the country to compare especially the Health Care System with the German one Not only the economic achievements are comparable but first of all the Demographic Change In 2020 28% of the Japanese population will be over 65 years In Germany it is prognosticated to be around 21% Tab 1 Moreover the Japanese Health Care System is known as own of the cheapest of the industrialized countries This leads to the question of adoption of some parts or ideas from the Japanese system to the German one In my elaboration I want to describe a case of a family in Japan regarding the family and work situation the Health Care System in general and additionally the system of taking care of the elderly and the children My example family has got following parts The mother is 42 years old she works as a nurse in an outpatient department of a local government In addition she has to take care of her parents almost every day The father is 45 years old works as an engineer and likes his hobby which is driving motorbikes The daughter of them is 7 and their son is 13 both go to school The grandmother has got dementia she is 76 years old and lives together with her husband who is 76 and has got diabetes They live in the neighborhood of their children and grandchildren Case 1 Values culture roles of the family members Case 2 Health Care System of Japan in comparison to the German one What happens after a traffic accident of the father Case 3 Elderly and Child Care in general and in the case of the accident and depression of the mother Healthy Aging Sourcebook Jenifer Swanson,1999 This sourcebook provides information to help the elderly soon to be elderly others understand the aging process the choices that must be made pursued to maintain health A glossary suggested reading list references resource directory are also provided Chronic Illness and Ageing in China Colette Joy Browning,Shane Andrew Thomas,Zeqi Qiu,Anna Chapman,Shuo Liu,2020-07-09 This eBook is a collection of articles from a Frontiers Research Topic Frontiers Research Topics are very popular trademarks of the Frontiers Journals Series they are collections of at least ten articles all centered on a particular subject With their unique mix of varied contributions from Original Research to Review Articles Frontiers Research Topics unify the most influential researchers the latest key findings and historical advances in a hot research area Find out more on how to host your own Frontiers Research Topic or contribute to one as an author by contacting the Frontiers Editorial Office frontiersin.org about contact Insights in Emotion Science Florin Dolcos,Andrew Kemp,Alfons O.
