Title	Effect of a 10-week training programme on the physical fitness of young adults
Journal	Journal of Sports Sciences , 15, 101-110
Year	1997
Volume	15
Issue	1
Pages	101-110
Abstract	The purpose of the study was to determine the effect of a 10-week training programme on the physical fitness of young adults. The subjects were 10 male and 10 female young adults, aged 18-25 years, who were randomly assigned to either a training or a control group. The training group performed a 10-week training programme consisting of aerobic, strength and flexibility exercises. The control group performed no training. Physical fitness was measured at the beginning and at the end of the 10-week period. The results showed that the training group had significantly higher levels of physical fitness than the control group at the end of the 10-week period. The authors concluded that a 10-week training programme can improve the physical fitness of young adults.
