Women and Age on the UK Stage surveys representations of the figure of the old woman on stage covering the experiences of aged women in the multiple realities of performance as a character in drama as the creator of postdramatic works and as a mature professional in live theatre As well as glossing work on female age and ageing in Film TV and Media Studies Part I explores representations in live productions both of canonical plays and contemporary performance It proposes the avoidance of the word older arguing for the term aged as one that addresses a social model of ageing and examines how performances can produce age effects upon members of the audience especially aged women In analysing work by several playwrights and female performers it not only examines narrative language and character but also focuses on the embodied material interrelational and proxemical aspects of live performance It contends that avant garde and postdramatic works can generate nuanced understandings of aged femininity which both acknowledge and challenge the social restrictions placed upon old women Part II consists of four interviews with prominent and not so prominent veteran female performers over the age of 60 giving long ignored critical attention to the experience of navigating multiple performance situations in the latter years of a long life on the stage This is an essential companion for anyone interested in the role of women in theatre and performance as well as students of women s studies gender studies acting and gerontology Municipal Journal ,1949
